WHIRLWIND OF DEBATE

Party Leaders in Senate Indulge in Bitter Personalities.

ANTI-TRUST BILL THE CAUSE

Senator Hanna Took a Front Place in the Discussion and Grilled Pettigrew of South Dakota.

Washington, June 5.—A tornado of partisan debate swept over the senate today with Senators Hanna of Ohio, Pettigrew of South Dakota and Carter of Montana, the chief figures. For sensational criminations and recriminations, for bitter personalities and poignant invectives, the debate exceeded anything heard on the floor of the chamber for many years. The lie was not passed directly but the truthfulness of statements was challenged very sharply.

At the opening of the session, the chaplain in his invocation referred to the bereavement of former Senator John Sherman in the death of his wife. He spoke of her as "keeping her home [illegible] virtues and [illegible] to all the type of a divinely noble Christian character."

During the transaction of routine business, Mr. Turner of Washington presented a bill upon which he said he desired to submit some remarks. The bill was to establish a court of pension appeals, which Mr. Turner said he had introduced several months ago at the request of the G. A. R.

He presented several letters from prominent members and officials of the G. A. R. in support of the measure.

Anti-trust Bill Again.

When the anti-trust bill was laid before the senate, Mr. Pettigrew of South Dakota moved to proceed with its consideration. Mr. Gallinger of New Hampshire moved to refer the matter to the committee on judiciary. In the course of a speech on the subject, Mr. Bacon of Georgia said he was profoundly surprised at the statements made a few days ago by Mr. Pettigrew that the Cramps, the shipbuilders at Philadelphia, contracts for the building of warships had not been denied. He regarded it as a most remarkable statement and directed attention to the fact that Mr. Hanna and Mr. Carter intimately connected with that campaign, were in the chamber and heard the statement.

[illegible] Mr. Hanna was on his feet. "If," he said sharply, "I should undertake to reply to all such statements made on this floor I would occupy more time of the senate than ever the senator from Georgia does. (Laughter.) I [illegible] of notice and I decline to dignify it by a denial. I had nothing to do with the campaign of 1892 but I have heard this story and I say most emphatically and decidedly that I believe it is not true. So far as such allusions are made to the campaign of 1896 I desire to say that no promises were made, no considerations were offered to any person or any corporation for contributions made."

Mr. Carter warmly denied any improper use of money in 1892 and [illegible] as false any statement that promises were made.

Mr. Pettigrew followed with assertions that Cramp had told him that he gave $400,000 in 1892 and said it was improperly spent.

Branded as Falsehood.

Mr. Carter, who was the chairman of the Republican campaign committee in 1892, said that the statement of Senator Bacon "is the first intimation I have had that such a charge was made by any person. This is the first time I ever heard that statement made. I say now, and there are senators on this floor who will bear me out, that any charge that contributions were received to be reimbursed through the medium of government contracts, or that any promises were made to corporations or to individuals is absolutely false and can be branded properly only as a lie. Money was received by the committee, but only through voluntary contributions. In that campaign the party was defeated and the country paid the penalty of that defeat."

Mr. Pettigrew insisted on replying. Said he:

"I made the statement that a contribution of $400,000 had been made by Mr. Cramp to the Republican national committee in 1892 and that he was to be reimbursed for it with contracts for additional warships. My authority for the statement is Mr. Cramp himself," declared Mr. Pettigrew, deliberately. This created a sensation in the chamber.

"He told me, not in confidence, as I believe, on an ocean liner coming across the Atlantic. He did not know where the money had gone, and had employed detectives to find out. He intimated that it had not been used for campaign purposes. Moreover," continued Mr. Pettigrew, his words almost hissing through the chamber, "I have said the same things to the senator who was chairman of the Republican national campaign committee of that year, and he waved it off smilingly, with the statement: 'Well, we did hit the old man pretty hard.'"

Adverting to Mr. Hanna, Mr. Pettigrew brought up the charges of bribery which had been made against the Ohio senator at the time of his election to the senate, reading voluminously from the report of the minority of the committee on privileges and elections, including newspaper stories of the accounts of the alleged telephone conversations between Mr. Hanna's friends and other persons. These statements, Mr. Pettigrew thought, could not be swept aside lightly by Mr. Hanna.

Hanna Flays Pettigrew.

As Mr. Pettigrew resumed his seat half a dozen senators clamored for recognition, among them Mr. Hanna and Mr. Foraker. Mr. Foraker was recognized and said the remarkable statements made by the senator from South Dakota required some reply. It was an Ohio matter, he said, and the Ohio senators felt abundantly able to take care of it. He yielded to Mr. Hanna, who said he felt like offering an apology to the senate for pursuing the subject further and he would not do so if he did not desire "to show the senate that the whole matter was a conspiracy—a part of a concerted plan to work up some political capital."

"There was a pretty lively scrap in Columbus," said he, good humoredly. "It was due partly to the Democratic party and partly to the work of traitors to their party and country, like the senator from South Dakota."

Mr. Hanna then went at length into the charges made by Mr. Pettigrew, saying they had been published first in a Democratic newspaper of Columbus and fully and completely denied by him at that time. He referred to Senator Burke of Cleveland as one of the chief conspirators in the senatorial election and denouncing him as a "traitor and a scoundrel," who had as a Republican lent himself to the conspiracy against his party and subsequently had been disbarred and disgraced in his native city.

"Then he read a clipping from a South Dakota newspaper in which Mr. Pettigrew was characterized as a traitor to his country and to his state and declared that he did not represent the people of South Dakota.

"That," declared Mr. Hanna, vehemently, "is my accuser in the senate of the United States and that is the estimation in which he is held by the people of his own state. I have often sat in my seat listening to him and thought him insane. Much of the stuff he has uttered on this floor is the veriest rot."

"When it comes to personalities," asserted Mr. Hanna, "I will stand up with him and compare my character with his. He may tell what he knows about me and then"—with emphasis on every word, "I will tell what I know about him."

Mr. Carter, obtaining the floor as a matter of personal privilege, said:

"First, it is said that Mr. Cramp made the statement that he contributed $400,000 to the Republican campaign fund in '92. I do not believe Mr. Cramp ever made that statement. He could not truthfully have made it, and I believe him to be a truthful man. From the senator from South Dakota has come the first intimation that Mr. Cramp ever gave such an amount to the committee and that any part of that purported contribution had been diverted wrongfully."

Fabrication, Said Carter.

Mr. Carter said the reported conversation between himself and Mr. Pettigrew was a pure creation of the imagination as he thought the conversation between Mr. Pettigrew and Mr. Cramp as reported by the former must have been. If Mr. Pettigrew had ever [illegible] that Mr. Cramp had made any insinuations that the funds had been diverted, Mr. Carter said that his own sense of honor would have impelled him to call upon Mr. Cramp for an explanation. There was certainly no truth in the reported conversation between himself and Mr. Pettigrew. If there was any truth in the reported talk with Mr. Cramp, it was a private conversation."

Senate recessed until 8 o'clock.

When the senate re-convened at 8 p. m. the galleries were crowded with a brilliant crowd of spectators.

Mr. Butler of North Carolina asked unanimous consent that a vote be taken at once upon the pending motion to refer the anti-trust bill to the judiciary committee.

It was agreed to take a vote on the motion to refer and it was carried, 42 to 23.

LENTZ AND HULL CROSS SWORDS IN THE HOUSE

Washington, June 5.—The house entered the throes of [illegible] today and all day and all the evening the galleries were crowded. The picturesque incidents were few. Partisan passion running high in the face of the impending presidential campaign broke out several times during the afternoon and hot words were bandied across the political aisle. Mr. Hull of Iowa and Mr. Lentz of Ohio crossed swords and later Mr. Grosvenor of Ohio and Mr. Gaines of Tennessee had a lively encounter.

At the night session the galleries were thronged with gaily arrayed women and the floor was a veritable bedlam. Hour after hour the conferees struggled on with their reports, the speaker, firm and resolute, steering the house through the turmoil and confusion. Toward midnight the galleries thinned out but the tired legislators with the prospects of an all-night session ahead remained in their places, getting what comfort they could from the knowledge that tomorrow the end would come.

The house on assembling today adopted the conference report on the Alaska code bill. The report showed a complete agreement. A conference was ordered on the Neely extradition bill and then the differences between the two houses on the military academy appropriation bill was considered, an hour being given each side for debate.

Mr. Hull of Iowa said the most important amendment to the bill was that increasing the rank of the senior major general and the adjutant general of the army.

Mr. Diggs of New York criticised severely the proposition to raise General Miles to the rank of lieutenant general, saying to promote General Miles to the exalted rank of Grant, Sherman and Sheridan, would be little less than an outrage. So far as Adjutant General Corbin was concerned he called attention to the marvelous "rapidity of General Corbin's promotion since 1898, when he was a lieutenant colonel."

Mr. Cummings of New York regretted that his colleagues had opposed the promotion of General Corbin.

Mr. Clayton of New York favored the propositions to promote Miles and Corbin. He was followed by Mr. Lentz of Ohio, who made an onslaught upon the Republicans Elect Entire Ticket in Oregon—Revised Figures.

Portland, Ore., June 5.—Complete returns from 22 counties out of the 33 in the state show that in yesterday's election the Republicans carried the head of the ticket by at least 8,000 plurality.

Returns so far give Wolverton (Rep.) for justice of supreme court, a plurality of 7,971. For congressman in the First district Tongue (Rep.) has 2,421 plurality.

In the Second district Moody (Rep.) for congress has 5,550 plurality. The Republicans will control both branches of the legislature and will have a majority of 22 on joint ballot. The two houses will be made up as follows:

Senate—Republicans, 20; opposition, 10.

House Republicans, 36; opposition, 24.

The woman suffrage amendment is defeated.

Counting in the city of Portland will not be finished before tomorrow, but up to 5 p. m. Rowe (Rep.) for mayor has a plurality of 500.

ARMY OF MOORS.

Massing in Algiers to Attack the French.

London, June 5.—Special dispatches received this evening from Algiers portray a serious situation.

Thousands of Moors are massing at Fuigig and in the neighborhood, preparing for a determined attack upon the advance posts of the French. The French columns have joined hands at Seoubia, but the men suffer terribly from heat and thirst and hundreds of camels died.

The French are preparing entrenchments and are confident of their ability to repel an attack and even to take the offensive against Fuigig if necessary.

STEPHEN CRANE DEAD.

London, June 5.—Stephen Crane, the well known American writer and war correspondent, died at 3 o'clock this morning.

Stephen Crane was born in Newark, N. J., Nov. 1, 1871. He entered journalism when 16 and for years acted as sporting editor and writer of sketches. Since 1896 he has devoted his time chiefly to story writing. During the Graeco-Turkish war and also during the Spanish-American war Crane acted as war correspondent for American newspapers. His best novel and the one which gained him fame was "The Red Badge of Courage."

PRETORIA HAS FALLEN

England's Flag Floats Over the Transvaal Capital.

ROBERTS' STORY OF CONQUEST

Irish Regiment Falls Into Hands of Boers Great Rejoicing in England Over Victory.

London, June 5, 11:07 p. m.—The war office has received the following from Lord Roberts:

"Pretoria, June 5, 12:15 p.m. Just before dark yesterday the enemy were beaten back from nearly all the positions they had been holding and Ian Hamilton's mounted infantry followed them to within 2,000 yards of Pretoria through which they retreated hastily. De Lisle then sent an officer with a flag of truce into the town, demanding its surrender in my name. Shortly before midnight I was awakened by two officials of the South African republic, Sandberg, military secretary to Commandant General Botha, and a general officer of the Boer army, who brought me a letter from Botha proposing an armistice for the purpose of settling the terms of surrender. I replied that I would gladly meet the commandant general the next morning, but that I was not prepared to discuss any terms as the surrender of the town must be unconditional. I asked for a reply by daybreak, as I had ordered the troops to march on the town as soon as it was light.

"In his reply Botha told me that he had decided not to defend Pretoria, and he trusted women, children and property would be protected. At 1 o'clock p. m. today while on the line of march I was met by three of the principal officials with a flag of truce, stating their wish to surrender the town.

"It was arranged that Pretoria should be taken possession of by her majesty's troops at 2 o'clock this afternoon. British prisoners have been taken away, but the majority are still at Waterval. Over a hundred of the officers are in Pretoria. The few I have seen are looking well."

All England Rejoices.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon, eight months after the declaration of war, Lord Roberts entered Pretoria. While the commander-in-chief of the greatest army Great Britain ever put in the field was fulfilling the promise he [illegible] to lead them into the capital of the Transvaal, England was celebrating the event with wild enthusiasm. Throughout the length and breadth of the country the [illegible] fires blazed on [illegible] wars, when the occupation of the enemy's capital signified the end of the hostilities. Lord Roberts' terse telegram was taken universally to mean the practical finish of the war which has tried Great Britain's military resources as they were never tried before. In London, the Mansion house, and the war office almost instantaneously became the centers for jubilant throngs. Flags again appeared as if by magic and traffic had to be diverted through the other streets. Hatless and coatless men and boys ran through the city alleys to see for themselves the bulletins announcing the good news and staying to join in the thunder of cheers or add their voices to the joyful throngs singing "God Save the Queen." Hats hoisted from thousands of heads were waved in exultant hands and shimmered like a coal bed in the sun.

Old men on top of the omnibuses and aldermen from the windows of the Mansion house encouraged crowds to still further effort. The premature report of the fall of the Boers' stronghold did not seem to have taken the edge off today's celebration. Lord Roberts' Six Miles Spruit dispatch was hardly printed by the "extras" before the Union Jack [illegible] was hauled up the flagstaff and the brief message was passed from mouth to mouth. "Pretoria is occupied."

The latest press dispatches from a representative of the Associated Press at Pretoria, dated June 3, quote General Botha as saying: "So long as we [illegible] thousands of willing men we must not dream of retreat [illegible]"

Disaster to Irish Regiment.

Lord Roberts reports to the war office that the Thirteenth battalion of the Imperial Yeomanry (Irish), was "overwhelmed by the Boers at Lindley." Lord Methuen made a "magnificent march to the rescue" but was too late. Following is the text of the dispatch announcing the disaster:

"Pretoria Station, June 5, [illegible] p. m.—I regret to report that the Thirteenth Imperial Yeomanry had to surrender to a very superior force of the enemy on May 31, near Lindley. On receiving information of the battalion being attacked, I ordered Methuen to proceed with all speed to its assistance.

"Methuen was then on the march, on the Heilbron side of Kroonstadt and, half an hour after the receipt of my telegram, on June 1, he started off. By 10 a. m. of the following day he had marched 44 miles in 25 hours, but he was too late [illegible] Colonel [illegible]

"Methuen attacked the Boers, who were between 2,000 and 3,000 strong, and after a running fight of five hours completely routed the enemy.

"It is a very regrettable circumstance; but I trust it will not be long before the Irish Yeomanry are released from captivity."

BOER ENVOYS RECEIVED THE NEWS STOICALLY

Chicago, June 5.—The Boer envoys arrived here this morning, but the welcoming words of the reception committee were half lost in the shouts of the newsboys crying: "All about Pretoria surrendered!"

The news of the fall of the Transvaal capital was received calmly, almost indifferently, it appeared; but this was explained by Mr. Fischer who said: "The news does not come as a surprise. The fight will continue."

Mayor Harrison headed the reception committee, but he was momentarily put in the background by an enthusiastic man who, although unknown to the committee, rushed up the steps of the car from which the Afrikanders were about to alight.

"On behalf of the Democracy—which I have supported for 27 years," he declared in a loud voice, "I bid you welcome."

The envoys looked somewhat surprised at the incident, but were soon put at ease by the mayor, who after turning the intruder over to a policeman, accompanied the party to the Auditorium Annex. At the hotel breakfast was eaten privately. The party consists of A. Fischer, C. H. Wessels, A. D. W. Wolmarans, Montagu White, Secretary De Bruyn and Mrs. Fischer.

At the hotel, Mr. Wessels was shown the Associated Press dispatches announcing the fall of Pretoria. He read them through very carefully.

"It is true. There can be no doubt of that," he said, slowly, as he read the last words. "It means," he continued, "that organized resistance on a large scale will no longer be the problem presented to Lord Roberts in South Africa. It means that from now on the burghers will pursue much the same tactics adopted by the Filipinos. We may surrender but we will never be conquered. Pretoria was well fortified, but our generals saw that it was useless to stand a siege when they had but 5,000 men to combat the enemy's 60,000. They have withdrawn in good order, no doubt, and are still able to fight. And Pretoria has been saved from a bombardment which would have wrecked it. Think! Lord Roberts has with him twice as many fighting men as there are men, women and children in Pretoria. Was it not wise, then, to retreat in the face of such odds? I half expected that there would be a battle outside of the city, but still I am not surprised. Doubtless the situation has changed considerably since I left."

HANDS OFF BOXERS.

China Ready to Face all Europe Situation Critical.

[illegible] Shanghai Gazette says it has the highest authority for stating that the dowager empress has ordered the tsung-li-yamen to face all Europe rather than to interfere with the Boxer movement.

Elsewhere it is asserted that the viceroy has ordered troops to oppose the further landing of parties from foreign warships and that the troops now engaged in [illegible] to prevent further foreign reinforcements reaching Peking.

Tien Tsin, June 5.—A representative of the Associated Press visited Hwang Tsun on the Pekin-Tien Tsin railway today and found that the station had been burned and two bridges burned.

The officers commanding the Chinese troops there said that 200 of his men had run away and only fifty remained. These fought well, killing a number of the Boxers. The bolting troops were badly cut up in the adjacent broken country. It is stated that sixty were killed or wounded. Some of their bodies were recovered, frightfully mutilated.

Bands of Boxers are patrolling the neighborhood, but have not interfered with the party of Associated Press representatives.

All the Chinese railway employes are deserting their posts and the troops sent to guard the stations appear to be worse than useless. A guard of 250 sent to Feng Tai bolted at Lu Kou Chiao yesterday morning when they heard of the trouble at Huang-Tsun.

News has just been received from the viceroy through the men he sent to Yung Ching, that Mr. Norman of the North China mission was murdered Friday or Saturday. It is thought that the viceroy knew of Mr. Norman's murder at the time of Mr. Robinson's.

Washington, June 5.—The state department has received a cablegram from Minister Conger at Pekin, stating that matters have taken a much more serious turn there. No details are given but it is indicated that the Boxers' activity is extending very closely to the Chinese capital.

The state department still finds itself unable to do more than it has already ordered respecting the protection of American interests in China. Troops are not available, and even if they were, the government there is disinclined to participate in any joint demonstration that would menace the integrity of the Chinese empire. This statement is a sufficient answer to the intimation coming from the British newspapers that United States co-operation with the British forces in China would be welcomed.

PROMOTION FOR WHEELER.

Washington, June 5.—Nominations by the president: Brigadier General Joseph Wheeler, United States volunteers, to be brigadier general in the United States army; Walter K. Landis to be postmaster at San Juan, Puerto Rico.

CLUB WOMEN IN CONGRESS

General Federation Getting Down To Work.

REPORTS OF THE OFFICERS

Race Question Settled in Committee Mrs. Lowe Will Be Candidate for Re-Election.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 5.—Nothing could have been more auspicious than the formal opening of the fifth biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's clubs this morning. The Alhambra theater, which seats 2,000, was crowded to its doors.

Following the addresses of welcome by David S. Rose, mayor of Milwaukee, Mrs. James Sidney Peck, on behalf of the women's clubs of Milwaukee and Mrs. Arthur C. Neville, for the state, Mrs. Lowe, the federation president, delivered her biennial address. Discussion of the important questions to come before the convention began in earnest today with meetings of state delegations. One of the side meetings of the morning was of presidents and ex-presidents of state federations. Mrs. Bookwalter of Ohio made the address of welcome and Mrs. William Tod Helmuth of New York presided.

The three receptions last night are commented on as the most brilliant society functions ever given by the federation.

The general meeting of the federation was called to order at 11 a. m. The feature of the meeting was the address of the president, Mrs. Lowe, of Georgia, who was enthusiastically received.

When the convention opened the hall was crowded to the topmost gallery, the audience numbering at least 2,000.

The Massachusetts delegates were absent when the convention was called to order, being engaged in a caucus over their colored delegate. They arrived later. It is believed there will be a protest this afternoon when the credentials committee makes its report and the name of Mrs. Josephine Ruffin is not accounted for as a delegate from the New Era club of Boston.

Following the biennial address of Mrs. Lowe fraternal greetings were exchanged. Mrs. Theodore Birney of Washington, D. C., president of the National Congress of Mothers; Mrs. Hannah Solomon of Chicago, president of the National Council of Jewish Women, and Mrs. Fannie Humphries Gaffney of New York, for the National Council of Women, made brief addresses.

Reports of committees were read in the afternoon. The treasurer, Mrs. Philip Moore of St. Louis, reported a balance on hand of $1,700.

The corresponding secretary said in the last two years 150 clubs and two state federations had been admitted, making a total of 684 individual clubs in the general federation with a membership of 65,000 and thirty-six state federations of 2,675 clubs with a membership of 155,000.

A Special Committee.

Only three members of a special committee spoke in favor of retaining the colored delegate from Massachusetts. They were Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker of Denver, Mrs. Charles Morris of Berlin, Wis., and Mrs. James Windsor of Des Moines.

Succumbing to the pressure brought to bear from delegates all over the country, Mrs. Lowe has announced that she will allow her name to be used as a candidate for the presidency.

IN CONVENTION HALLS.

New York and Other States Name Delegates to Kansas City.

New York, June 5.—The Democratic convention today elected these delegates at large to the national Democratic convention:

David B. Hill, Richard Croker, Edward R. Murphy and Augustus Van Wyck.

Electors at Large—Frederick Cook of Rochester, Robert C. Titus of Buffalo.

The platform adopted contains no reaffirmation of the Chicago platform of 1896; demands the abolition of all customs and tariff duties between Puerto Rico and the United States; condemns trusts and monopolies, etc., and favors the nomination of W. J. Bryan.

The delegates are instructed to enter the national convention as a unit and to act and vote as a unit in accordance with the will of the majority.

The convention adjourned at 5:55 p.m.

Kansas City, June 5.—A protracted wrangle in the credentials committee over ten contesting delegations from St. Louis and three from Kansas City blocked the deliberations of the Missouri state Democratic convention that met here today to name a full state ticket. In both instances it is a contest between the police machine and the anti-machine factions. The indications tonight are that the anti-machine men will win a majority of the seats. The committee will probably remain in session all night. The committees once out of the way, the convention will, it is believed, finish its work promptly. The resolutions will indorse Bryan and reaffirm the platform of 1896, and condemn imperialism and trusts.

Baltimore, Md., June 5.—The Democrats of Maryland in state convention held here today selected a delegation to Kansas City and adopted a platform which leaves the delegates uninstructed but declares that William J. Bryan is the choice of the Democrats both in the counties and in the state of Maryland.

The following delegates at large were chosen: Gov. John Walter Smith, State Treasurer Murray Vandiver, ex-Congressman Joshua W. Miles and Colonel L. Victor Baughman.

ST. LOUIS STRIKE.

St. Louis, June 5.—Negotiations between the strikers and the St. Louis Transit company looking to a settlement of the strike are off for the present and probably will not be resumed until the strikers agree not to demand the discharge of the men now in the employ of the company in order that they regain the positions they gave up when the strike was declared. Attorney Lehmann for the Transit company stated plainly that every man now in the service of the company must be retained in the place assigned to him, and until this is assented to by the strikers negotiations as to other matters are useless.

From a rioting standpoint, today was practically uneventful. Assaults on inoffensive passengers continued. William A. Sander of Tilsit, Mo., and William Deneke of Houck, Mo., were set upon and brutally beaten by a crowd this afternoon because they rode on a Transit company car.

NOMINATIONS CONFIRMED.

Washington, June 5.—The senate in executive session tonight confirmed all the nominations sent in today, including that of W. F. Stone of Colorado to be assistant justice of the private land claims.

GOVERNOR VS. MALONEY

Chieftains of Arapahoe Democracy Talk of Party Split.

INSIDE STORIES OF THE ROW

Facts in Case Laid Bare, According to the Contentions of the Respective Factions

Denver Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette.

Denver, June 5.—The fight in the Democratic party is getting warmer and more bitter every hour. Each side is confident in its talk of being able to control the state convention. It is settled that Governor Thomas will go as a delegate-at-large to the national convention whoever wins. There has been so much idle gossip about the real merits of the controversy and so much partisan and unreliable stuff has been printed in the papers here about the affair that a Gazette representative obtained from the leaders of each faction today a statement written out by each such leader so that Gazette readers may be able to understand just what is involved.

The statement of the governor's side is furnished by Hon. R. W. Speer, the governor's trusted manager in the present Arapahoe county contest and the statement of the Maloney side is furnished by Hon. T. J. Maloney himself.

Both were most gracious with the Gazette representative and promptly and freely prepared the statements and expressed the feeling of certainty that the Gazette would be perfectly fair and give the facts as they exist and not work them as has been freely done here during the past few days.

The Governor's Side.

Mr. Speer's statement is as follows:

"Last fall's campaign was no sooner over than Maloney began to attempt to make changes in the county organization. His first efforts were directed toward the membership of the county executive committee itself. Arapahoe county is by law divided into nineteen districts and 193 precincts. As the general county committee is a large and unwieldy body, the executive power of the party has always been lodged in the executive committee, the members of which were elected by the voters in each district. Precinct committeemen have never been called together, except upon the eve of election and then only for the purpose of receiving instructions from the chairman of the executive committee for election day. In December last the executive committee passed a resolution by a vote of two to one, correcting the changes which the chairman had attempted to make in their body and among the precinct men as well. The chairman was present at this regularly called meeting and seemed for the time to acquiesce in the action of the committee. Since that time the chairman has steadily refused to call this executive committee together, although he was repeatedly requested to do so by an overwhelming majority of it. Numerous complaints were being made by members of the organization that he was attempting arbitrarily to rule them, and it was apparent to everyone familiar with the facts that he was steadily striving by an assumption of authority to change the county organization, so that it would consist, if possible, of his own friends and followers.

"Those who have fought the battles of the Democratic party in Arapahoe county long before Mr. Maloney became a resident here, viewed these proceedings with alarm, especially when taken into consideration that the well known personal, business and political affiliations which the chairman had with persons outside of the Democratic party, whose motives varied from indifference to absolute hostility. Fourteen of the nineteen members of the executive committee petitioned the chairman in writing to call them together for the purpose of ascertaining the roll call of the county central committee as he claimed it and calling and holding a convention. This request was refused, but afterward modified by his calling them together at his office, presumably for a meeting. Upon this occasion he hastily read over a list of what he claimed was the county central committee, upon which were a great many changes, not on the former list in the possession of the secretary. He refused to permit any business to be done at this time and dismissed them. He promised the executive committee that no call for a convention would be made within forty-eight hours, but at the very time the promise was being made the notice was evidently prepared and ready for mailing to those persons whom he chose to call the county central committee. Eleven of the executive committee in writing and two others verbally instructed the secretary to call the county central committee together, as they understood its composition, which was done, two meetings being held on the same night at different places.

"The list of names which Mr. Maloney said constituted the committee was in a large part fictitious, that is to say, they were not members of the county committee, except by his fiat. A majority of the executive committee knowing that he was repeatedly making changes and being convinced of the character of his motives, felt certain that the meeting of the county central committee which he pretended to call at the Brown would consist only of that minority supposed to be friendly to him of the old committee, and the new majority created for the purpose of the meeting, alike friendly to him. Many of the genuine members of the committee never received any notification of the call, which expressly stated that no one could enter the room without having a notice signed by Maloney as credentials. The whole plan was so evidently fraudulent and unfair that a majority of the executive committee and other leading Democrats were convinced that no genuine call of the committee had been made, though a few hours intervening between the call of the meeting in a county of the size of Arapahoe, made it impossible to absolutely determine this fact. The fact, however, remains that at the meeting called by the majority of the executive committee, 122 of the regular members were present, and each of these left behind his signature as a proof of the fact, and since made affidavits of their presence. Every act which they took, in ratifying the call, and calling the convention, was passed by a majority of the entire committee, so that a large majority of the central committee having met, whether they met by chance or in any other way, was the act of the Democratic party, as the Maloneyites now contend for.

"On the other hand, at the Maloney meeting there was just one-third of the committee present, which was not even a quorum, a majority being a quorum, and even though the chairman and not the executive committee has the sole power in Arapahoe county to call the county committee together, still there being no quorum at any time present, they could not lawfully and legally do any business, and therefore their whole call was void. The ex-chairman, with his usual frankness, told a number of committeemen whom he attempted to remove that if they were with him they could stay, if they were not, they would have to go. All of these things convinced many loyal Democrats that it was a rule or ruin policy, not in the interests of the party, or yet of the community, but of certain individual ambitions and that the organization must be taken out of the hands of a man who cared so little for the rights and privileges of its members.

"Mr. Maloney has been deposed by the organization consisting of those who have been at the head of the Democratic affairs in Arapahoe county for many years, and which will continue to conduct its affairs after this [illegible] unpleasant memory. Everything was done short of absolute abasement to induce Mr. Maloney to proceed fairly and according to the rules and precedence of the party, but to a man of his temperament, to make a concession is [illegible] the demand on his part.

"The fight had to be made at this time, is being thoroughly made and will result in the removal of a man who is being used unconsciously as a wedge with which to split the Democratic party."

Mr. Maloney's Contentions.

Mr. Maloney said regarding the situation in Arapahoe county:

"I have been chairman of the county central committee here for the past two years. In accordance with a notice sent me by the chairman of the state central committee a short time ago, I as chairman, issued a call for a meeting of the Democratic county central committee. That meeting was held at the time and place designated in the call, and was attended by about two-thirds of the entire committee.

"At that meeting a call was issued for primaries and a county convention to be held at the Broadway theater on Saturday last, at which convention we elected 164 delegates to the state convention, which is to be held here on June 7. Our primaries were held in strict accordance with the call issued by the county central committee, as was also our convention.

"Shortly after the call was issued a [illegible] the meeting by me as chairman, a number of other gentlemen got together and claimed to issue a call for a meeting of the county central committee in opposition to the meeting called by myself as chairman of the regular committee. These gentlemen form what is called in the papers the 'Thomas-Speer-Dayoren faction.' Their action was a surprise to every one as no one for a moment dreamed that they were not going to work with the regular county organization in this county.

"Their excuse for doing this, they claim, was that they knew I was not going to be fair when the committee met. They also claimed that I had made a great many arbitrary removals from the committee and filled these vacancies with people pledged to my interests.

"Now, to begin with, I have not made a single arbitrary removal from the committee at any time since it was originally formed. There have been several vacancies occurring on account of change of residence, resignation and in two or three cases, death. I have filled these vacancies in what I supposed to be a regular manner.

"I understand from rumor, that all kinds of extravagant reports are in circulation as to what these people will endeavor to show about what I have been doing; but what I say to you here is the exact condition of affairs on the committee so far as I know. I have tried to be fair and just to everyone.

WOLCOTT WOULD BE A POPULAR CANDIDATE

Special to the Gazette.

Washington, June 5.—Senator Wolcott is daily gaining in strength as a vice presidential possibility. The Quay forces from all sections of the country will support him cordially on account of his attitude in the Quay contest for his seat in the senate.

Besides this powerful influence the president feels very friendly to Senator Wolcott and the party leaders generally feel that he has sacrificed himself at home politically to stay by the party and that he is entitled to this honor if he wants it.

The endorsement which the Gazette gave him two months ago has attracted the attention of party leaders to him as a most available man and the sentiment is strong that the nomination should go to the Rocky Mountain region or the Pacific coast.

Delegates to Democratic Convention Flocking to City.

INFORMAL CAUCUSES HELD

Peace Committee Again Training the White-Winged Brood Noted Visitors to Capital.

Denver Bureau,
Colorado Springs Gazette.

Denver June 5—Delegates to the state Democratic convention which will be held in the Broadway theater on Thursday have commenced to arrive, and the fight is getting hot. As soon as a delegate arrives in town a representative of either the Thomas or Maloney faction meets him at the depot and takes him at once to the headquarters where he is entertained by the manager and usually in such a manner that upon leaving they will be positive that he is on one side or the other.

Senator W H Adams of Conejos county brother of Gov Alva Adams, has arrived in the city to attend the convention. He refuses to commit himself upon the dispute, but anyone knowing "Billie" knows it will not be [illegible] fine Italian hand will be noticed upon one side or the other. All he would say was "The Arapahoe Democrats should have settled their differences amongst themselves and not injected it into the convention. That [illegible] Governor [illegible] for. If with all the power at his command in this city he could not make his fight successfully he ought to lose it. He ought to have gone into the regular county committee where the issue belongs and not embarked on the course that he and his followers adopted."

H [illegible] Rose a delegate from Lake says he is in favor of seating half of each delegation but that the Lake county delegation will vote as a unit.

A E Barker of Clear Creek county thinks his delegation will be about evenly divided.

It seems to be conceded that [illegible] A Doyle of Victor will be one of the national delegates.

Since the result of the Democratic convention at Colorado Springs became known the Maloney faction is booming Judge A T Gunnell as a delegate-at-large.

Ex-Governor Alva Adams has announced that he is not a candidate for delegate to Kansas City.

Night of Caucusing.

The Thomas faction held a caucus [illegible] chairman and Ben Lindsey secretary. After a very spirited contest as to whether they would march to the state convention in a body or go single, it was decided to go as they pleased, after which they adjourned.

The Maloney faction held a caucus this evening at the Brown hotel and elected Judge Caldwell Yeaman chairman and [illegible] Dorsey secretary. They elected a member of the committee on [illegible] and a member for all the different committees transacting all their business just the same as if there was [illegible] from Douglas county, has issued a call in the interests of the Thomas faction by telegraphing for a meeting of the state central committee tomorrow, ignoring the regular state chairman, Milton Smith.

The peace committee held a meeting this evening and appointed a sub-committee consisting of Chas [illegible] Hughes Jr, Chas F Wilson and Mayor Johnson to draft a set of resolutions to be submitted to the state convention to seat both delegations giving each a [illegible] vote and also rules and order of business governing the actions of the county conventions and county committees in the future.

ORE THIEF SLAIN.

Special to the Gazette

Victor June 5—Late last night Michael Shields was shot and killed by officers near the Strong mine in company with [illegible] Knobles. It is alleged that he was in the act of taking sacks of valuable ore belonging to the Last Dollar mine from [illegible] City Marshal Frank Smith of Goldfield his deputy, N M Jackson and Marshal McKinley of Independence all of whom had been watching for the [illegible] informed of the intended theft last night and notified Under Sheriff Harrigan who also was on the ground. The officers were in waiting for the men and were concealed in a cabin near by. One of the men Knobles opened the car got in and handed out several sacks of ore to Shields who placed them under a car near by. Officers Smith and Jackston started after Shields while Harrigan and McKinley took charge of the man in the car. Shields ran the officers in pursuit and refused to halt when ordered to do so. The officers were armed with shotguns and both fired simultaneously at the fleeing man. He fell mortally wounded thirty-five buckshot taking effect in his back.

UNNATURAL FLESH

Reduced By Leaving Off Coffee and Using Postum Food Coffee

"I [illegible] coffee many years. In fact ever since I was a child until a few months ago I became satisfied that it hurt me caused the miserable drowsy feeling and the bloated condition of my body. I was very fleshy all the time unnaturally fleshy.

Since I left off drinking coffee and [illegible] Postum Food Coffee the effect has been wonderful. I feel like a different person. The bloating has all gone. I [illegible] very much thinner and more natural in shape have a better appetite [illegible] I shall never use any more [illegible] coffee.

When I first tried Postum I was not satisfied with it but decided that the fault must be my own for so many people used Postum and liked it that I knew there was some trouble in my preparation of it so I examined the directions carefully and found that I should boil it long enough to bring out the flavor and the food value. When I prepared it right, it was elegant and I am more than pleased with the delicious beverage I have for breakfast every morning." Mrs. [illegible] Dore 1158 23rd St, Detroit Mich.

FLORENCE IS TO CELEBRATE

Citizens Will Burn Powder on the Fourth of July.

REAL ESTATE BOOM IS ON

Good Demand for Town Lots for Building Purposes—A Very Bright Outlook.

Special to the Gazette.

Florence, June 5—The Business Men's association met today and decided to give a big Fourth of July celebration—a celebration which will surpass any ever held in the city. It will be a $1000 celebration and will, if possible, be made one which each participant will long remember. On this occasion if the work can be completed, will be opened the City Park. The proposed arrangements include a parade with the Petroleum band, of Florence, and two bands from other towns, foot races, public speaking and an afternoon dance among the day features and in the evening a big ball music by the different bands, and a $1 000 fireworks display will be the entertainment for the evening. It is thought that arrangements will be made with the Rio Grande railroad to run excursions up from Pueblo and down from Salida and Canon.

Real Estate Booming.

The United Oil company yesterday sold 23 lots in the best part of the city. The people here are experiencing a real-estate boom. Not a day passes but the sales of from a dozen to eighteen lots are recorded. It can truthfully be said that Florence is on the eve of one of the greatest booms in its history even greater than was the rapid growth from 1893 to 1896. The people who are buying these lots are those who will construct modern brick [illegible] At the present time there are about 75 homes being built. These are being built by newcomers for their own use and not for rental or investment purposes. In the next two weeks, counting those who are planning to build and those who have the material on the ground, there will be, at least, one hundred more houses started. There are more strangers coming to [illegible] accommodated many are forced to leave owing to the inability of securing a house in which to live. There is not an empty house of any kind in the city. These people would locate with us if they could get the accommodation and for this reason a building boom which will be almost unbounded will be experienced this summer.

Florence today has 2 400 more people in sight. There are for three industries alone. The Milliken mill which is being erected will employ 200 men. The Dorcas mill will when completed employ 150 and the locating of the Rocky mountain smelter positive brings 500 more workmen. These men with their families will wonderfully increase the city's population. It is now reported that the Cripple Creek-Ream mill which has been idle for several months on account of the enlargement and improvement is about ready to resume operations. The mill's capacity is 150 tons and employs seventy-five men and a well founded rumor is in circulation that the [illegible] will [illegible] some operations about the 1st of July. This mill has run but a little since its completion being in litigation most of the time. Aside from these new industries Florence with an almost certainty of a railroad to Silver Cliff and the general expansion of the oil fields gives Florence with its resources and with the natural facilities an advantage over almost any other town in the Arkansas Valley.

Another Convict Escapes.

George Brooks one of the convicts working on the repair of the state roads eluded the guards this morning about 7 o'clock and made his escape. He is a colored man 5 feet and 10 inches high and weighs 170 pounds. He was sent up from Otero county April 26 1898, for assault to murder. His sentence was seven years and would have expired January 28 1903. The officers from this and Canon have been looking for him all afternoon but up to this time his capture has not been effected.

A 16 year-old boy giving his name as Leonard Murphy was found this morning in a hay field nearly dead with pneumonia. He has been beating his way to his home in Butte Mont from Kansas City, where he had been all spring. He was taken to a nearby house where medical aid was at once summoned. The attending physician said that he could not live but a day or two. His father's name is William Murphy 428 Montana Street Butte Mont.

Joe Chamborge was buried yesterday. About five months ago his body was found hanging to a tree near Chandler and was in a mummified condition. The facts about his death are rather mysterious. No one seems to know from what cause he died but it is supposed that he was dealt with by foul play and was afterwards carried to this tree, from which he was suspended supposedly to ward off suspicion. The remains have been here at the undertaker's establishment since then awaiting advices from relatives in Belgium, and were interred in Union cemetery at 1 o'clock yesterday.

Minor Matters

Millard Jenkins, of Macon Ga Sunday morning gave his introductory address to the congregation of the Baptist church which is his new charge. The morning service as well as the evening was well attended. He is also holding revival services each evening this week and a great deal of interest is being manifested. The recent converts are mostly young people.

The citizens of Florence will have an opportunity to witness one of the most exciting ball games next Saturday that was probably ever played on the Florence diamond. It will be the scene of one of the most spirited contests for base ball honors that has ever been witnessed in our city. Florence has never had a game in which all the players were "professionals." In the coming game the "laws" will cross bats with the "medics." The laurels of the legal profession are in the hands of the following players: Condit Johnson Champion Warner Callahan Meserve Shearer Wilkes and McLain. The medical profession will be represented by Doctors Moore Adkinson Gordon Williams Brooks Richardson Paxton Sheridan and Cummings. It is a question whether or not the doctors will agree on a diagnosis of this case or whether homeopathic or allopathic treatment will be given. It is also thought that the lawyers will object to many of the points made by the medics on the grounds of irrelevancy and incompetency.

The personnel of the delegation either to the state or national convention, really is of very little moment to me. I have thought I would like to be a delegate to the national convention but it would not be a matter of grief to me if I were not. It is of far greater importance to the Democracy of this county and of the state, to determine what position we are in in this county.

If the committee of which I am chairman is the regular county central committee, then the delegation selected on Saturday last is the only one which should be admitted to a vote in the state convention. If we are not the regularly organized committee, then the other people, if regular should be admitted without any question.

"I hope the matter will be taken hold of by the state convention in earnest and settled that one or the other is the regularly organized Democratic committee in this county. You know the usual way for these matters to be settled by state conventions is, to give half a vote to each, and admit both to participation in the proceedings of the state convention, on the grounds that outside delegations usually insist on Arapahoe county settling her own troubles. That might be all right in many cases, but in this case it would only make matters worse, and establish a precedent that would encourage any number of Democrats who at any time thought they could not carry things their own way through the regular organization, to go off by themselves and form a new committee call their primaries and conventions, nominate a different set of candidates from that of the regular organization of this county.

If a compromise of any kind should be effected, admitting each delegation to a half vote, the result in this county will be that the committee formed by these people will still claim to be the regular committee, and at our next state convention which will be held about sixty days prior to the election you will again find two sets of delegates both claiming to be regular and each seeking admission to the exclusion of the other. Also when the county ticket is to be made up this fall here you will find there will be two opposing tickets in the field, both claiming to be regular Democratic tickets and you know what the result of that would be. If there are two Democratic parties [illegible] neither can carry the county. If we have but one party, we will carry the election sure.

"I do not wish to say anything against Governor Thomas personally but this bolt (if 'bolt' is the proper name for it) without even coming into the meeting with the committee to find out whether or not I was going to do the things charged against me has been engineered entirely by him and some of his principal appointees in this county. Of course they have a few of their close personal friends with them but the rank and file of the party and nearly every prominent Democrat in the county of Arapahoe is satisfied be[illegible] the regular delegation and what is the regular organization. At least the organization of which I am chairman is the one that conducted the last campaign in this county with results which you know have been beneficial to the party in this county and in the entire state.

"What I want is to have the matter decided on its merits entirely without regard to the personal ambitions of any one."

NEW INDUSTRY AT CANON CITY

Special to the Gazette

Canon City Colo, June 5—Canon now has another industry which will materially add to the vast resources of [illegible] Marble company. The company now has thirteen men [illegible] their quarry, which is situated about six miles northeast of here. An open cut 75 by 75 feet by 20 feet high is being worked, with the aid of men two [illegible] drills. The company owns 1 000 acres of this marble. The prospect is that this marble is superior to any yet known to be discovered in the United States. With the variety of seven different colors and the quality resembling pure onyx the demand for the same cannot be supplied. In about three weeks the quarry will be opened and arrangements will be made so that a big shipment which was ordered long since will be sent to New York City where it will be used for decorating the walls and interior of the more handsome buildings in that city.

The output of this new industry will be one carload each day though the present contracts call for more than that amount. The Gazette's representative interviewed the manager of the company this morning.

Mr Van Dewit in reply to the questions asked him, said that his company was composed of Boston, Hartford and New York capitalists and that their head office is in Hartford and a branch office, boarding house two derricks and a blacksmith shop was at present at the quarry and more improvements would be made as soon as they could get at them. But at present the work will be pushed toward getting the quarry in [illegible]

This same company owns twenty-four mining claims [illegible] Chinnel the manager of the company will arrive from Boston some time this summer to look after their mining interests and open offices in this city.

At the marble works a $5 000 pumping plant will be put in in the course of two or three weeks or just as soon as the title for the land can be secured.

The June term of the county court was opened in this city yesterday morning. Several cases will be tried during the week.

Fred Denny and Jack Gray who were convicted of [illegible] by the jury in the district court at Cripple Creek were brought down from the district Sunday by Sheriff Stewart and were lodged behind the penitentiary bars at 1 o'clock. Grey was given [illegible] years while Denny was given four to seven years. They both will serve from time at date [illegible] proposition to promote General Corbin and who severely arraigned the Republican members of the military affairs committee for declining to take action looking to the adoption of a senate resolution to print 10 000 copies of the Coeur d'Alene investigation report. It was he said another step in the direction of militarism.

Mr Lentz then directed his assaults against General Corbin who he said had been hanging about the corridors of the capitol begging for promotion.

"I have not any more respect for military beggars than I have for no[illegible] beggars" said he.

"I believe that military men should fight for their promotions not beg for them."

The excitement had been rising during his remarks and things were at a high tension when Mr Hull rose to reply.

Mr Hull denied that the adjutant general had haunted the corridors or asked members of congress for promotion.

Mr Lentz "Is it not a fact that he appointed sons of members and indirectly got influence in that way?"

Grain Speculator Invests in Gold

T W Carter, one of [illegible] grain and stock dealers on the St. Louis exchange, who is now at the Alta Vista, has been attracted to invest in Cripple Creek mines and is one of the army of financiers of the east who are delighted with their investments. He is also a large stockholder in the Union Gold Extraction company which is making good headway with its reduction works at Florence.

"We in St Louis are beginning to appreciate the opportunity offered us in Cripple Creek investments," he said last night, "and I believe in a short time there will be a larger number of investors and larger aggregates from our place, as well as throughout the entire east and middle west. Mines in all parts of the world have been tried and in most cases found to be mere speculation but after wandering about and paying dearly for experiences the moneyed men realize that Cripple Creek is the best field in the world. In the first place, it is the most wonderful district I ever heard of.

"Unless a man has investigated it, you could hardly make him believe that he could board a nice car at the hotel door in Cripple Creek and ride past the most important mines and through most of the towns of the district without leaving his seat. And then the railroads are making improvements that insure a confidence in the future of the place. I was down in the ground yesterday to investigate some of the larger mines and it is a truly wonderful sight. The district has practically been only mapped out as far as it goes, but the wealth in those hills will never be told to this generation, the next or the next.

Colorado Springs lying within two hours ride of a camp putting out two and a half millions every month, has a future most places would covet. I am well pleased with my investments out here and when I go home will talk Cripple Creek and Colorado Springs to my friends and business acquaintances."

Standard Company Asks a Franchise

The Colorado City council, which held its regular meeting last evening did not transact a great deal of business but two to three hours were taken up in the discussing of several matters.

Franchise is Wanted

A franchise to construct a system of poles and wires for transmitting electricity was asked for by the Standard Milling and Smelting company. A lengthy discussion resulted over a proposal to repeal the present ordinance respecting the closing of places of business on Sunday. No action was taken however. The council decided to expend $200 and no more on the streets of the city during the month of June.

The first matter brought up was that of repairing the bridge over the Fountain creek on South Sixth street. It was reported that the bridge was in bad condition [illegible]

Mr Gervais moved that the street commissioner be instructed to make an investigation and report at the next meeting of the council. It was afterwards decided to have all the members of the council accompany the street commissioner when he examines the bridge.

Reports were submitted by the police magistrate police marshal, treasurer and city attorney.

The Banks of the Ditch.

The question of settling for the damage done by the overflowing of the big ditch during the recent flood was brought up and resulted in quite a lengthy discussion on the subject. It was said that the cause for the overflow was due to a great extent to damage done to the banks of the ditch. The council instructed the clerk to correspond with the El Paso canal company, the proprietors of the ditch in order to see what could be done in the way of restraining people from damaging the banks of the ditch.

The Standard Milling and Smelting company through a representative asked for a franchise to erect poles and lines of wire through the streets of the city. It passed its first reading and will be voted upon at the next meeting. The franchise covers a term of twenty-five years. These wires are to be used to transmit electricity from the new electric power plant to be erected north of Colorado Springs to the new smelter which is to be built near the reduction works in this city.

Councilman Miller moved that the city attorney be instructed to draft an ordinance repealing the ordinance in respect to the closing of places of business on Sunday. After a careful consideration of the matter, Mr Miller withdrew his motion.

It was suggested that the council elect a purchasing agent for the city. Upon motion of Mr Allan Mayor George was chosen to act in that capacity. Mr Craig reminded the members of the council that the insurance on the town hall was about to expire. The matter of renewing it was deferred.

Want Streets Fixed Up

A complaint was made concerning the manner in which the streets of the city had been damaged by the new ditches of the Citizens Light Heat and Power company. The clerk was instructed to inform the company of the damage done and demand the necessary repairs. Mr Horace Quinby was granted a special permit to erect a barn to be covered with iron sub[illegible] of the fire marshal.

Mr F P Schrieber representing the school board, asked for a permit to erect a two room frame school building in the northeast corner of the B [illegible] grounds. The permit was readily granted.

The council decided to cut down expenses by limiting the amount to be expended upon the streets during the present month. The clerk was instructed to inform the street commissioner not to expend more than $200 on the streets including the sprinkling and repairs on the bridge on South Sixth street.

The council then adjourned.

Gov. Thomas Present at Commencement

Commencement exercises of a most interesting character occurred last night at the Colorado School for the education of the deaf and blind. As on the previous evening, when the [illegible] entertainment was given the fine audience hall was filled with a throng of people. [illegible] executive of the state Governor Charles S. Thomas surrounded by the members of the graduating class the faculty of the school and the board of managers.

The national colors were draped in ample folds to form a background while banking the corners were a profusion of [illegible] and flowering hot house plants. Vases filled with American Beauty roses and carnations adorned piano and stands. The one lone young man graduate seemed to be indeed in "a rosebud garden of girls" for rarely if ever, could have been a lovelier group than the five members of the graduating class.

The Programme.

The opening number upon the programme "First Effort Waltz" composed by Mr John Meyers was very full of melody. Prayer was offered by Rev J W Finkbiner pastor of the English Lutheran church. The programme was a most [illegible] all the [illegible] words of the vocal selection had been composed for the occasion by members of the class. While listening to the essays so excellently worded and eloquently delivered one could not but be deeply impressed with the happiness and beneficence of the institution. The titles of the various numbers were:

Vocal solo—We Forget ... Daisy Brunk
Miss Daisy Brunk
Essay—Our Outlook
Miss Pearl Hawes Boise Idaho
Essay—A World of Progress
Miss Ella Lesher Ft Collins
Piano Solo—School Revels
Miss Elizabeth B Rudd
Essay—Failure Means Success
Miss Daisy Brunk Denver
Essay Grecian Independence
Miss Stella Winters Gunnison
Quartett [illegible] Misses Hawes Brunk, Adamson, Mr. Myers
Essay—The Influence of Poetry
Miss Elizabeth B Rudd Boulder
Oration—Education a Necessity
Mr John Myers Denver

The governor's address was in his usual happy vein. He voiced the sentiments of the audience when he paid high compliment to the pupils for the enjoyment their efforts had given them. Referring to the comparatively recent establishment [illegible] that the rapid improvement in such lines was due to the growth of that all which one rules the earth.

He praised the efficient and faithful superintendent and instructors and forcibly expressed the hope that the day was not far distant when Colorado would establish an institute for the feeble minded and urged upon all his hearers the duty of using every influence with the legislative body to induce them to enact a law to bring this about. In conclusion Governor Thomas presented the diplomas in the hands of the graduates and the audience joined in singing America.

Rev Mr Finkbiner pronounced the benediction.

Ten More Electoral Votes for McKinley

"For the first time since 1888 Kansas will be counted [illegible] Republican this fall" replied I E Lambert of Emporia at the Alamo last night, when asked about Jayhawk politics.

Mr Lambert is the United States district attorney for Kansas and is here on legal business.

"Bryan carried the state by 12 000" he continued "but the people cannot swallow his theories and promises after four years of such good conditions as the Republican administrations have given. We have elected several Republican governors since 1888 but the state never went Republican for a president. When the workingman's stomach is full and he has a comfortably sum laid by with plenty of employment ahead [illegible] Bryan [illegible] could not convince him he is hungry [illegible] to be [illegible] all the time.

"That is the situation in my state. Farmers and stock men large and small are unusually prosperous. This season's [illegible] is conservatively estimated at 85 000 000 bushels and corn is equally abundant. In no district in the state is there dissatisfaction save among the chronic kickers known in a business way as agitators who will stir up strife forever. County elections have shown wonderful Republican gains and we are confident that Kansas will return to the Republican ranks in this fall's presidential vote. She is already safely Republican in state elections.

"Our campaign this year is waxing hot and will boil henceforth. Senator Baker is a candidate before the next legislature for re-election to succeed himself, and John R Burton has a strong following making the senatorial contest an interesting one."

NAMED BY PRESIDENT.

Washington June 5.—The president today sent the following nominations to the senate

John A Russell of Illinois to be attorney general of Puerto Rico [illegible] marshal of the supreme court of Puerto Rico. William H Lillcott of Indiana to be commissioner of interior of Puerto Rico. W F Frear of Hawaii, to be chief justice of the supreme court of Hawaii. Clinton A Galbraith and Antonio Perry of Hawaii, to be associate justices of the supreme court of Hawaii.

MAY ELECT A PRINCIPAL SATURDAY

The Colorado Springs school board held a meeting last night to transact some business relative to the close of the school year. The work of completing the list of graduates for the high school was considered but will not be completed until the examinations are over.

The question of selecting a principal for the school was considered but action was deferred inasmuch as the board desires to see personally some of the candidates for the position. The question may be settled on Saturday evening.

HAD A BAD FIT NEAR ALAMO PARK

At 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon Officers Dayton and Hughes were called to the corner of Cucharas and Nevada avenue to aid a man who was in distress. They found a middle aged man who had fallen there in a fit. He was writhing badly in his exertions and had inflicted several severe bruises about his face. The officers summoned a delivery wagon from Hemenway's grocery and transported the sufferer to the office of Dr Hanford in the Bank building.

A meeting of the Brotherhood of St Andrew is called for 7 30 this evening in the study of Rev Benjamin Brewster.

The Daughter of Jairus was presented last evening by the Grace church choir. The attendance was exceedingly good and the cantata was the best that has yet been given.

"David Corson"

"The Redemption of David Corson," the new book by Charles Frederic Goss, published by The Bowen-Merrill Co.

Though off the press less than 90 days, it is already in its sixth edition. It bids fair to rival their last great book "When Knighthood was in Flower."

An Exchange says: "This is a book that is worth while. Though it tells of weakness and wickedness, of love and license, of revenge and remorse in an intensely interesting way, yet it is above all else a clean and pure story. It is safe to say no one can read it and honestly ask 'What's the use.'" We have just received a supply of this and other new books for our Commencement trade.

Candidates Named for the Gazette Cottage

The first formal declaration of a candidate, or pair of candidates, for the Gazette Cottage contest, was given to the Gazette yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Sandige, of 416 Robinson street, Colorado City, have decided that the prize is worth going after and will have the support of a very large number of people in their campaign. Mr. Sandige is in the employ of the Colorado Midland road and there is probably no more popular man on the entire run between Colorado City and Leadville. Mr. Sandige is well-known in Colorado City and in other cities of the state as well as among the employes of the railroad and he will undoubtedly poll a very heavy vote. Mrs. Sandige has innumerable friends in Colorado City and the friends of the young couple have given assurance that they will rally nobly to their support.

The Contest Prize.

The prize is the Gazette summer cottage and two lots in Dixon Park Place, the cottage to be furnished completely by Fairley Brothers, the well known furniture dealers, who will within a few days exhibit the furniture at their store on South Tejon street, and a crown piano worth [illegible], which is to be donated by the Hext Music company and placed on exhibition at that company's store room.

Only Subscribers Can Vote.

Quite a number of persons have within the last few days sent to the Gazette the names of persons whom they wished to have receive the paper. With the subscriptions has come a request that the Gazette cancel the coupons in these papers and vote them for certain candidates to be named later.

The Gazette can in no case do this. The only way that any contestants for the cottage and the things that go with it can receive a vote is for some subscriber to the Gazette to clip the coupon from the Gazette and bring it to the Gazette or mail it to the contest manager, with full instructions as to the person for whom the coupon or coupons shall be voted. Before opening the envelope in which the coupons are received, the Gazette will pass a string through the envelope and coupons and securely seal the knot. The end of the envelope will then be opened sufficiently to allow the number of coupons marked on the outside to be verified. The package will remain intact for the count which will be made by a committee of representatives of the contestants at the close of the contest.

Nominations can be made until the 1st of July.

How to Vote.

Cut out the voting coupon printed in the Gazette each day, enclose the coupons in an envelope, seal the envelope and write plainly thereon the following:

..........Votes

For..........

From..........

Dated..........

Remarks..........

Under the head of "Remarks" candidates may be nominated and any claims for support that friends of candidates may desire to have printed in the Gazette should also be stated under this head on the outside of the envelope or sent in an envelope separate from the one enclosing coupons. Each envelope received will be sealed the same as an express money package in the presence of the party depositing the vote when delivered in person, and only the end of the envelope will be opened for the verification of the count of inclosed coupons, leaving the package practically intact for the committee who will finally count and verify the Gazette's preliminary count.

POOL SELLERS UP IN ARMS.

San Francisco, June 5.—The managers of the local pool rooms were granted a temporary injunction today preventing Chief of Police Sullivan from enforcing the ordinance passed by the board of supervisors last night, prohibiting prize fights.

The pool room men contend that the ordinance conflicts with certain state laws and deprives them of the pursuits of a business on which they have spent time and money.

If "coming events cast their shadows before," those shadows on the blind presage a wedding in the near future. The young lady may even be "all ready" to marry, that is, she thinks she's "all ready" for her trousseau's prepared, the "trip" has been planned, and the house picked out and "everything."

When we see a young woman go out to meet fate that way it brings to mind the Frenchman's saying of the Charge of the Light Brigade. "It was magnificent but it was not war." It is magnificent to see the young girl face the future so fearlessly, but it is not life. No young woman is ready for married life unless her physical condition is up to the standard of marriage, in the health of all the delicate womanly organs, and rarely is that the case.

Young women entering upon the state of marriage will find no friend so helpful as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It gives vigor and elasticity to the organs peculiarly feminine, prevents the drains that ruin the health, and makes the ordeal of motherhood so easy that it is practically almost painless.

"At an early stage of married life," writes Mrs. Flora Arn, of Dallas, Jackson Co., Mo., "I was greatly bothered with painful periods, also a troublesome drain which rendered me very weak and unfit for work of any kind. I became so thin there was nothing left of me but skin and bone. My husband became alarmed and got me a bottle of 'Favorite Prescription.' After he saw the wonderful effects of that one he got me two more, and after I used those up there was no more pain, and I began to gain in flesh very rapidly."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser answers every question. It is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay the cost of mailing only. For the cloth-bound edition send 31 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

THE RESULT IN OREGON.

OREGON has spoken in no uncertain voice upon the national issues of the [illegible]. The second state of the Pacific coast in point of numbers and of influence has ranged herself on the side of Prosperity and Expansion and can no longer be considered as a doubtful state in the coming election.

The four votes of Oregon may be counted on as sure for the party that is in favor of running American home affairs in such a way as to keep the American producer at work at profitable wages, and our foreign affairs in a way to provide for our increasing influence and prestige abroad and an increasing market for our mines, our farms and our mills.

To the people of Colorado the election in Oregon is of more than ordinary interest because of the close relations that exist between the two states in their sympathies and business affairs. Located immediately upon the Pacific coast, Oregon is perhaps more directly concerned in the development of transpacific commerce than is Colorado, but the peculiar diversity of our products and the fact that we will furnish many things for the Pacific trade which cannot be had elsewhere, gives us an interest in it which is not inferior to theirs.

The people of Oregon have shown their appreciation of the situation and of their business advantages by registering their vote in favor of the Republican ticket.

It is a matter of plain business good sense and judgment to say that nothing else could be so greatly to the advantage of Colorado as to take similar action next November.

A PRE-EMINENT RESORT.

EACH day of the passing season emphasizes the pre-eminence of Colorado Springs as a summer tourist resort.

More than ever before the visitors to the city are drawn hither by reasons of [illegible] and yet there is in the throngs now upon the streets a noticeable number of the class who used to make up our crowds almost entirely, the people who have put aside for awhile the cares of business and professional life and are intent upon enjoyment to the full of clear, pure air and bright sunshine and the wondrous panorama of the mountain scenery.

In a certain way the mountains never lose their charm and their capacity for entertainment and delight are never exhausted, but we never see them again exactly as they appealed to us when for the first time their [illegible] lay before us like an unopened book filled to overflowing with unrealized pleasures. And so it is that with feelings almost of envy the older residents watch the pleasure-seekers who throng the street corners and crowd the cars that are on their way towards the canons or Manitou.

In spite of all its business enterprises and engagements Colorado Springs easily maintains its position as the foremost western resort. It does so by the pre-eminence of its natural attractions and by the care that has been taken in the past to make it a city sought after by pleasure-seekers and widely known in tourist circles.

Certainly it is a great deal.

People are slow to realize even after years of experience that we have in our [illegible] and in our opportunities as a summer resort one of our greatest and most valuable assets. The money used in improving our accommodations, in providing entertainment for visitors, in developing our business along this line would be most profitably expended, and would bring [illegible] enterprises that are supposed to be on a good paying basis.

In the increase of mining and other lines of business somewhat similar Colorado Springs [illegible] the opportunities she has in directions which if less sensational are none the less sure and may even be more permanent and of greater final value than those which are based on the golden veins of Cripple Creek.

THE CAPTURE OF PRETORIA.

THE capture of Pretoria by the British forces under Lord Roberts undoubtedly marks the end of effective resistance on the part of the Boer authorities. Only two courses remain open to President Krueger and his official associates, surrender or flight, and of these only the first is available for the men who have done fighting in the ranks.

There has been, as there always is at such times, a great deal of loose talk about [illegible] and "dying in the last ditch," etc. But such talk usually results in very little, and it will not do more in this case. Skulking in the brush, stealing pigs and cattle and murdering now and then a stray soldier who may have become separated from his company is not warfare of a kind suited to Boer ideas or Boer character, and it is not a course of action that will commend itself to brave and honorable men who have been defeated in a gallant struggle.

Much as we may admire the gallantry of the Boers, and disregarding the question as to whether the justification for the war was sufficient on the part of England, the fact remains that the force of numbers has triumphed, and the sooner now the Boer people accept the inevitable the better it will be for them and for the progress of all South African people and affairs. The rule of Great Britain in the Boer territories will probably be more liberal and just than in any other British territory, for England realizes that the eyes of the world will critically scan her every act and purpose in dealing with the Boers. The promises of her statesmen have been uniformly for the utmost liberality, and if these promises are fulfilled the Boer people will have little real cause for complaint.

EASTERN DEMOCRATS EXPECT TO LOSE.

EVER SINCE the western wing of the Democracy announced its intention of pushing the policy of Bryan and the Chicago platform to the bitter end the eastern end of the party, convinced of the uselessness of resistance, has settled down to an acceptance of defeat with as much resignation as is possible under the circumstances.

The eastern Democrats are perfectly well satisfied, of course, but they are not particularly cheerful.

Mr. Bryan will be nominated.

The Chicago platform will be endorsed.

All right.

Silver will be again brought to the front.

All right.

Trusts must be denounced.

All right.

Imperialism condemned.

All right.

Mr. Bryan would like to have the delegates from the eastern states instructed for him.

All right.

And then the eastern Democrat, greatly relieved that no further orders are being forwarded from the west, turns again to the engrossing pursuit of money-making under the [illegible] which have come to him by virtue of Republican prosperity.

"We don't want a change from present conditions"—that is what the eastern business Democrat is saying [illegible]—though it would never do to say so in public—and if the nomination of Mr. Bryan will advance the Republican chances of success, we are Bryan Democrats from now until election time."

If Mr. Bryan ever made the remark attributed to him in the newspapers recently that he would like to have the Boers come over to the United States to take the place of some of the Republicans, it shows him to be a close student of present conditions. A few thousand new listeners who had never heard the Bryan speeches and could not vote the Republican ticket this year would be a very welcome addition to the list of American residents, for Mr. Bryan.

Aguinaldo has stayed dead for two days at least.

RAILWAY BUILDING IN COLORADO.

THE FREQUENT rumors of new lines of railway to be built in Colorado have a persistence and a definiteness that entitle them to something more than mere passing attention.

Even if we cannot accept them all at their face value and believe that all the roads spoken of are to be constructed immediately or in the near future, these reports are sufficient evidence that there are a great many good opportunities for railroad building in the state, and that in all probability some of them will be improved very soon.

One of the most persistent of these rumors deals with the construction of a line from some point near Denver westward across the main range into northwestern Colorado. The two facts that make this rumor especially credible are that here is the largest body of undeveloped territory now existing in Colorado, and that such a line, if properly constructed, would cut off a good many miles from the line of through transcontinental travel. It seems surprising indeed, in view of such important considerations that such a line has not been built already: but the natural difficulties are very great, and the roads already existing have given such very good service that the necessity for a short line has not been felt as it might otherwise have been. There is economy from the freight hauler's standpoint in going a good many miles around a mountain rather than a short distance over it; and a good line over the Colorado ranges north of Pike's Peak is something that is yet to be found. However, a railway to northwestern Colorado may be counted on as a certainty of the near future, for the natural resources of Routt, Rio Blanco, Grand and western Larimer are too great to be much longer neglected.

Northwestern Colorado is by no means the only area of the state that needs additional railway facilities, though it is undoubtedly the greatest. There are other rich valleys and mining districts that will claim the attention of capitalists and give a sure promise of good returns for investments. The main lines of our railway systems have for the most part already been laid out, but for a long time to come we shall hear of short branches and spurs, and in the construction of these rather than in the building of additional competing main lines is the legitimate field for Colorado's railway development.

The conditions are ripe for a period of extensive railway building, and the rumors of which we hear so much are likely to be justified as prophecy by the course of events.

REASONS FOR A CHANGE.

IN [illegible] at Washington, Senator Shoup of Idaho set forth in a clear and conclusive manner the reasons which [illegible] influenced the people of the western mountain states to return to their allegiance to the Republican party.

It is [illegible] because the people have never known such prosperity as they have experienced during the present administration, and they attribute it largely to Republican legislation.

"Take lead, for example," said Senator Shoup. "During the Harrison administration the price held pretty steadily between $4.20 and $4.30. When Cleveland was elected on a free-trade platform it dropped to $3.80. In 1894 it was $3.25, and in 1895 it touched as low as $2.30.

"Now take the other side," continued the senator, "and you will understand what I am driving at. When McKinley was inaugurated lead stood at $3.12½ in Idaho and has been steadily going up since, until it now sells at $4.70, the best price for years, and the lead miners credit the advance to the Republican party.

"Now take sheep for another illustration. Under the Harrison administration, when our wool was protected by the McKinley tariff, Idaho sheep were worth from $2.25 to $2.50 per head. When Cleveland was inaugurated they commenced to go down and down, until when the Wilson tariff bill was passed they were worth $1.27 per [illegible].

"When McKinley was inaugurated in 1897 they at once advanced 45 cents. In 1899 they had advanced to $2.38, and this year, according to the estimates of the agricultural department, the average value of every sheep in Idaho on January 1 last was $2.80, as compared with $1.27 at the time McKinley was inaugurated.

"In order that you may appreciate the force of this argument, there are over 2,000,000 sheep in the state that have gained more than 200 per cent in value since McKinley was elected, because of Republican tariff legislation. Can you blame the sheep farmers, who mostly voted [illegible] because they believed that the free coinage of silver would restore the value of their sheep, for wanting to keep the Republican party in power? Are they going to take any chances? Take the price of wool, for example, which sold at 13 cents a pound under the McKinley tariff law during the Harrison administration.

"While Cleveland was president it dropped to 6 cents a pound, and now under the Dingley tariff it is selling for from 18 to 25 cents a pound. Cattle have advanced an average of $10 a head since McKinley was elected, and horses are worth from $5 to $10 per head more than a year ago. Our people are not fools. They know what is good for them, and with these facts bulging out of every man's pocket do you suppose he is going to vote for the [illegible] of Democracy, [illegible] and free trade again?"

The striking figures presented by Senator Shoup are conclusive, of course, to people in those particular lines of business, but they affect a much wider circle. It is not only the wool grower and the lead miner who are benefited by Republican prosperity but every producer as well. The farmer finds a sure and profitable market for his crop, the laborer finds a demand for his strength and skill at good wages, and the employer of labor finds a steady demand for the finished product of his mill or factory.

But we are glad that there is a sentimental side to it as well as the practical one that Senator Shoup sets forth so plainly.

The people of the west are returning to the Republican party not only because it is to their interest to do so but because they are by natural character and disposition, Republicans. They are expansionists and progressionists. They believe in themselves and in their nation. They are intensely patriotic. They are optimistic rather than pessimistic. And in all these things they are Republicans.

It was only through a mistaken sense of the real condition of things that they were brought into alliance with the Democracy and it was impossible that they should remain there long.

In short, the people of the west are getting back into the Republican party because they are, naturally, Republicans.

THE PHILIPPINE QUESTION.

GENERAL OTIS puts the Philippine question with military directness.

"We've got them now. What are we to do about it?"

The Democratic idea is that we ought never to have had them.

It is to criticise the Republican party for the way in which they were acquired, and because they have been acquired, and for the way in which the suppression of the revolt of Aguinaldo has been carried on and for numerous other matters of detail.

But, as General Otis says, "We've got them now. What are we to do about it?"

And the Democratic party has no answer ready.

The successful trial trip of the new Russian cruiser, Variag, will again draw attention to the ability and skill of American shipbuilders. The cruiser is one of five similar ones now being built, one at Stettin, one at St. Petersburg and two at Nicholaieff. The conditions under which the Variag were built were especially strict and in accomplishing such good results the American builders feel that they have done exceptionally well and that the Variag can hardly fail to bring them additional orders from foreign powers who desire warships built of the best material and by the best workmen in the world.

If the Boers really wish to immigrate they had better come [illegible] can give them half the show for a living that they can find right here, and they can try farming, cattle-raising or mining, whichever suits them best.

The Thomas Democrats do not seem to be wholly without a press in Denver. Two Denver papers are championing their cause quite as vigorously as though they were dyed-in-the-wool Democratic organs.

It is rumored that the Thomas Democrats are in favor of fusion with the Teller Silver Republicans and are willing to concede them the governor. This may account for much semi-Republican support which they are getting.

Advice to ambitious cities: Don't count your census before it's hatched.

OPEN PARLIAMENT.

An Old Letter.

To the Editor of the Gazette:

Sir—The following letter, which I came across in an old file of the New York Tribune for Nov. 19, 1861, may prove of some interest to your readers as showing the implicit faith held by an early settler in the future of Colorado. In the light of present developments, it has proved prophetic:

"Denver City,
"Colorado Territory,
Nov. 6, 1861.

"To the Editor of the New York Tribune:

"Sir—I have read in your paper of the 26th ultimo an article under the caption of 'The Rocky Mountains,' in which you do this country a great injustice. I will admit that 'Pike's Peak,' as it is called, is not a California, but I will risk my reputation on the assertion that the Rocky mountains of Colorado Territory will yet be one of the permanent gold fields of the world. When proper capital and machinery are brought to bear upon our rich and inexhaustible mines, the world will be satisfied that Pike's Peak is no humbug, as your article would seem to indicate.

Wm. Larimer, Jr."

Yours truly,
DUNBAR F. CARPENTER.

Tender Hearted Courts.

To the Editor of the Gazette:

I was much pleased with the editorial in this morning's issue on "The Mob." What you say of "weak or designing courts" and "the technical and tender-hearted court of review" allowing so many murderers to go free, is only too true. As a case in point I enclose herewith a clipping giving the history of a famous case now on its second trial in western New York state. The community are unanimous in their belief that the accused was guilty, as already proven. But the money secured by the crime is now being used to defeat the ends of justice. And it seems likely the man will yet go free.

POLITICAL PARAGRAPHS.

(Contributed.)

The sultan of Turkey is now a receptive candidate for Democratic sympathy.

The party that regrets the settlement of a mining strike is short on excuses for existence.

The political organization that thrives upon disorder and discontent is not the proper governing power for a healthy nation.

Fewer failures in all sections of the country last April than in April, 1899. That's pretty good proof of prosperity in a presidential year.

Democratic sympathy for the Boers is largely made up of a desire to put the administration in an embarrassing position with other powers.

If Aguinaldo were wise he would send half a dozen delegates to the Kansas City convention, not to vote, but to take up a sympathy collection.

Tennessee produced nearly a million tons more coal last year than in 1895. That ought to be an industrial object lesson to the south, especially as practically the whole of it was used at the factories of that state.

Hon. John G. Carlisle no longer regards himself as a resident of Kentucky. Mr. Carlisle has not had a high opinion of his old political associates since Bryanism prompted them to throw stale eggs at him.

The export trade of the south for the past 12 months amounted to over $400,000,000, more than one-third of that of the entire country. These are figures which speak more eloquently than the narrow southern politicians who contribute so liberally to the Congressional Record.

The only piece of national legislation for which the Democratic party has been responsible, since the election of Abraham Lincoln, is the Wilson-Gorman tariff bill, a measure despised by its authors, hated by its sponsors, and which wrought ruin to thousands of those who tried to be its friends.

Savings banks deposits in the United States in 1894 and in 1899, compare as follows:

Year.	Depositors.	Deposits.
1899	5,200,000	$2,178,500,000
1894	4,800,000	1,771,[illegible]
Increase, 1899	400,000	$407,600,000

We are not so very poorly off after all, judging by the following comparison of last year's per capita circulation of money:

In	Per capita.
England	$17.05
Germany	19.84
United States	25.75

And now the per capita in the United States is over $26, and still increasing.

Out of nearly thirteen hundred millions of dollars worth of merchandise carried between the United States and Europe during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1899, less than three million dollars' worth were carried in American ships other than those of the American line. The latter named line carried nearly forty million dollars worth. Foreign ships carried twelve hundred and fifty million dollars' worth. And yet the foreign lines are concentrating all of their opposition to the passage of the shipping bill upon the only American line in the transatlantic trade.

SHOOTING STARS.

(Washington Star.)

Curios.

"These are genuine Havana cigars," said the connoisseur.

"Oh," said the man who always likes to be in the importance, "and here are some genuine Havana postage stamps."

"What's interesting about them?"

"Nothing, except the fact that they are genuine."

"Sometimes," said Uncle Eben, "when you does a man a favor he never fohgits it. He jes' laughs at you de res' o' his life foh bein' so easy."

Interested.

"Are you fond of golf and whist?" asked the enthusiast on the subject of games.

"Yes," answered Miss Cayenne, "sometimes the conversation about them makes such an impression on me that I can't help wondering why people don't play them instead of talking about them."

"Yes," said Farmer Corntossle, "let Josh go right ahead playin' golf. I reckon it'll do him good."

"You said you thought it was a waste of time yesterday," said his wife.

"I've changed my mind. If he keeps on practicin' with them sticks a few years mebbe there won't be so much danger of cuttin' hisself when he tries to han'le a scythe."

The Shriners.

There's a weird and mystic something in the atmosphere today;
The hot wave felt the power and it turned and slunk away;
The voo-doo man's neglected, though he once was in the lead.
This assembling band of wizards makes his following small indeed.

All shattered is our faith in every plain old-fashioned charm.
The scimitar and crescent cause respect and even alarm.
We quite forsake devotion to the rabbit's left hind paw—
If you want a real mascot you must get a tiger claw.

Behold the marching genies! 'Tis a most impressive crew.
And the splendors rise around us such as old Aladdin knew
When he touched the sorcerer's lantern. Now the radiance of flowers
Expands on every highway, while they say: "A town is ours!"

TRADE UNDER EXPANSION

(Special Correspondence.)

Washington, June 4.—Senator Lodge is one of the most careful and thorough investigators of the expansion question in all of its bearings. He has just been examining the growth of our trade with Hawaii, and finds that five years ago, in 1895, the total Hawaiian trade with the United States amounted to only $11,500,000. Last year it reached $33,500,000, having increased almost three-fold within five years, and most of this increase has occurred within the past 18 months.

The senator says we may not think that a business of $33,500,000 amounts to very much, when our foreign trade is now running up into the billions, but to compare our trade with the Hawaiian islands, with their handful of people with our trade with some of the larger countries of the world, gives a better idea of the value of colonies to the United States.

As a result of his investigations Senator Lodge finds that:

Our trade with the Hawaiian islands is over 100 per cent larger than our total trade with Austria-Hungary.

It is 75 per cent larger than our trade with Denmark.

It is 50 per cent as large as our total trade with Italy.

It is nearly four times as large as our trade with Portugal.

It is over 150 per cent greater than our total trade with Russia.

It is almost double our trade with Spain.

It is 125 per cent greater than our trade with Sweden and Norway combined.

It is more than double our trade with Switzerland.

It is 10 times as large as our trade with Turkey.

It is nearly 30 times larger than our trade with Greece.

Comparisons with countries on the American continent show that Hawaiian trade with the United States is equal to 30 per cent of our trade with the whole Dominion of Canada.

It is nearly 150 per cent greater than our trade with all the Central American states.

It is 60 per cent as large as our trade with Mexico.

It is 50 per cent larger than our trade with all the British West Indies.

It is nearly five times as large as our trade with Puerto Rico.

It is three times as large as our trade with the Danish, Dutch and French West Indies, with Hayti and San Domingo included.

It is almost twice as large as our trade with Argentine.

It is almost half as large as our trade with Brazil, whence we import most of our coffee.

It is nearly 400 per cent larger than our trade with Chile.

It is nearly 400 per cent larger than our trade with the United States of Colombia.

It is nearly 15 times larger than our trade with Ecuador.

It is more than six times larger than our trade with British, Dutch and French Guiana.

It is 10 times larger than our trade with Peru.

It is 10 times larger than our trade with Uruguay.

It is more than five times larger than our trade with Venezuela.

He then makes comparisons with countries across the Pacific, and finds that our trade with Hawaii is within six million dollars of being as large as our trade with the empire of China.

It is more than three times as large as our trade with Hong Kong.

It is nearly half as large as our total trade with all the British, Dutch and French East Indies, which send us such large supplies of sugar.

It is equal to 65 per cent of our total trade with Japan.

It is more than five times larger than our last year's trade with the Philippines.

It is nearly 20 times larger than our trade with Asiatic Russia.

It was larger by four million dollars than our trade with the whole of the Australasian colonies last year, with their five millions of people.

It was larger last year by more than three million dollars than our trade with the entire continent of Africa.

Senator Lodge says the increase in our trade with Hawaii has been very marked since its annexation by the United States, and he looks for equally rapid improvement in our trade with Puerto Rico and the Philippines. These colonies will absorb some of our surplus manufactures, and they will also draw upon this country for their provisions; thus increasing the demand for the products of American farms.

The war department has again revised the schedules of the Cuban tariff, to go into effect June 15. It is expected that this will increase the imports from the United States, as we now have less than half the trade of the island.

A previous reduction of the duty on food-stuffs and live stock has not lessened the cost of food by the consumer, so that no changes are made in the revision in the food duties except to reduce the duty on flour from $1.30 to $1 a barrel, and on salt cod and stock fish from $2 to $1.

In view of the necessity for the construction and reconstruction of railroads in Cuba, a special provision has been inserted in the tariff which allows railroad companies to import these supplies into the island for a period of 12 months from the date of promulgation at a rate of 10 per cent ad valorem.

Some few changes have been made in the free list, one or two additions being made, and one or two articles being taken out, and put on the dutiable list.

The Cuban postal frauds are being thoroughly investigated by the administration. Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow is now in charge there, and the criminals will be punished as quickly as the law permits.

Brigadier General Theo. Schwan's report to the war department shows that most of the large towns in the Philippines are garrisoned by American troops. More trouble is caused there by the Filipino brigands than from any other cause.

The Boer incident was diplomatically and courteously terminated by President McKinley, and the envoys have been socially entertained by the secretary of state. Politically the matter is ended [illegible] affair. Secretary Hay soon showed the envoys that the United States government had not only done all it could in the interests of peace, but is the only nation that has shown any interest in stopping the war. The Boers, in March, appealed to all European governments and to the United States to intervene, but the United States was the only one that complied with the request, and this offer from President McKinley, as the world already knows, was declined by Great Britain.

Samoa's trade last year amounted to about a million dollars, rather more than half being imports. The bulk of it was transacted with the Australasian colonies. The share of the United States amounted only to $127,000, but will now rapidly increase.

Internal revenue receipts during the first 10 months of this fiscal year were $243,187,219, an increase of $19,390,849 over the corresponding months of the previous fiscal year.

Chairman Kerr, of the Democratic congressional campaign committee, says that he has sent out practically no 16 to 1 speeches this year. There is no demand for silver literature, the subject being a dead one.

The Philadelphia convention can well afford to indorse the St. Louis platform of 1896. It can be offered as an exhibit of what the Republican party does in the platform promise fulfillment line.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK BLOCK

To Organize Colorado For Home Patronage

The merchants and manufacturers of Colorado will probably be organized in [illegible], with a view to fostering everything that tends to promote or encourage home industries. A meeting in the near future of the Denver chamber of commerce will be confronted with an old proposition that has been made new by a recent trip about the cities and towns of Meyer Harrison, one of the directors of that chamber, who will propose a general meeting in Colorado Springs to organize and further an association for the encouragement of home industries.

"I have watched the merchandise that is sold throughout the state," said Mr. Harrison, at the Alta Vista last night, "and when I tell the Denver manufacturers and jobbers that Colorado Springs and Pueblo can make the same [illegible] and lay it down [illegible] cheaper [illegible] they will be amazed, but the proofs are at hand. We all need to give more attention to our own wares. Denver manufacturers pay more attention to the sale of their goods outside the state than within our borders, which is not a good way to educate the people to using our own goods. It makes a sort of antipathy to home made goods. There is a greater [illegible] in the state [illegible] manufactories in most lines can supply if all the product stayed at home.

"I shall propose that the Denver chamber of commerce, the manufacturers and jobbers, recognize the importance of other points in the state as manufacturing centers and possibilities for such, and that a mass meeting be called of all of the chambers of commerce and representative business men from every town not having a chamber for this city, in the near future to take up the matter of patronizing home industry. I select this place because of its central location.

"Colorado Springs will be a city of 100,000 people in ten years if the proper spirit is shown and Pueblo will show an equally remarkable growth. Of course I figure on you taking in the suburban places. At the edge of the city on the north, the almost inexhaustible coal supply and other resources compose an inviting field for manufactories, and they will surely come if the state takes up the spirit. Not only Colorado Springs will profit, but all up and down this valley, from Boulder to the Gorge, will become the mecca of the great west. The cities and towns need to make the proper concessions—invite manufacturers and offer them inducements, such as ground, several years' taxes, etc., and the whole state will soon take on a different aspect.

"All of these details and plans will be gone through at the meeting I propose and am going to have. There is no use waiting longer. A personal investigation will convince any one that too little attention is given to this vital question and show the vast good to be derived through agitation of encouragement for home industries."

Incidentally Mr. Harrison spoke of a Chicago concern that has men in Colorado now looking over ground with a view to establishing a large packing house. Denver has been inspected.

"We do not want them to move their business here," he continued, "but only ask for branches. Every man they employ will live here and the goods they make will be consumed here instead of shipped a thousand miles or more to us."

El Paso Democracy Will Follow the Band

[illegible] band will play today and all the Democrats will join the parade.

At a meeting of enthusiastic Democrats held last evening it was decided to hire the Colorado Midland band to the [illegible] convention tomorrow at Denver. The thirty-nine delegates who will represent El Paso in the convention will leave this afternoon at 2:30 on the Colorado & Southern and will be accompanied by a number of Democratic friends from Colorado Springs.

At 1:30 this afternoon the Midland band will be at the court house, and accompanied by the delegates and the Democrats, will lead a big parade to the Santa Fe depot.

The Democratic Club recently organized also will march.

The Convention Yesterday.

The county Democratic convention yesterday afternoon to select delegates to the state convention at Denver on June 7, did not indorse any senatorial candidate. The administration of Governor Thomas was highly commended. That of Governor Adams was mentioned favorably in connection with the press [illegible] one and as for the factions, there was no visible rupture.

Judge A. T. Gunnell was indorsed for delegate-at-large to the national convention and the delegates selected were given the unit rule instruction on motion of H. H. Seldomridge.

Van Rouse Chairman.

Van E. Rouse was elected temporary chairman quietly and without opposition. He congratulated the party on the harmony in the county. T. B. Pyles was made secretary.

The following committees were appointed:

Resolutions—K. R. Babbitt, G. W. Musser, R. S. Briscoe, H. C. Hall, D. McShane.

To name delegates to the state convention—M. A. Leddy, W. C. Jones, C. P. Quinlan, O. B. Bennett, H. H. Seldomridge, W. E. Doyle, Lewis Gaylord, D. McShane, J. C. Doran.

Before the latter committee was appointed, the oil-like smoothness of the routine was interrupted by W. L. Dawson, who objected to only seven or nine men naming delegates for precincts without a voice from those localities.

"Why can't we be fair and let the committee apportion the delegations and let the precincts select their own delegates," he said. "It is undemocratic to place the power in the hands of a few."

"The motion has carried," announced the chair, and Senator Leddy announced that the committee would meet at once.

During the work of the committees the convention was addressed by the Honorable Joseph Farner, who wisely urged every voter to read [illegible] abusing the administration and using some alleged statistics that are remarkable. His opinion of international trade, he said, was that it is nothing [illegible] knives.

The Delegation.

The following names were recommended and accepted as delegates to the state convention: J. A. Hayes, A. T. Gunnell, H. H. Seldomridge, K. R. Babbitt, D. C. Goddard, Lewis Gaylord, J. L. Semmes, W. C. Jones, C. P. Quinlan, George Musser, T. B. Pyles, Mrs. T. B. Pyles, E. S. Cohen, Mrs. E. S. Cohen, D. M. Wright, F. A. Slosson, C. D. McKesson, James Doran, W. A. Corson, Van E. Rouse, J. F. Rougeot, H. C. Hall, H. G. Rogers, W. A. Dle[illegible], Grant [illegible], A. L. Lawton, D. McShane, [illegible] Pauley, W. D. Lombard, O. B. Bennett, A. Gieger, R. S. Briscoe, M. A. Leddy, H. B. Snyder, Mrs. Belle Myer, John Stillington, F. D. Eubank, H. D. Deacon, Dr. G. W. Lawrence, W. E. Doyle.

The typewritten resolutions then adopted, praise Governor Thomas for a faultless administration, arraign the Republican party as the opponent of silver, the ally of trusts and condemn the Filipino war as an "abhorrent condition and a disgrace to the Christian civilization of the world." They demand an immediate cessation of the war in the Philippines and the extension of freedom and independence to the Filipinos.

Senator Seldomridge offered a resolution instructing for Judge A. T. Gunnell as a delegate to the national convention, which carried.

The unit rule was then given the delegates in the form of additional instructions on motion of Mr. Seldomridge, and the convention adjourned at 4:25.

The El Paso Democratic club held a short business meeting in the same room immediately upon adjournment of the convention, adopting a constitution and completing other features of permanent organization.

The officers of the club are, President, Henry C. Hall; vice president, Van E. Rouse; secretary, C. P. Quinlan; treasurer, H. B. Snyder; executive committee, H. H. Seldomridge, G. D. Kennedy, and O. B. Bennett.

At a meeting of the delegation to the state convention held late in the afternoon H. H. Seldomridge was elected chairman and Mrs. T. B. Pyles secretary.

DECLAIMERS WILL CONTEST NEXT WEEK

[illegible] week at Colorado college, which has been but little advertised, but which will be one of the most interesting, is scheduled for Saturday night in Perkins Fine Arts hall. It will be a declamation contest between four members of the elocution class of the college.

The four young men who will compete in the contest have been chosen by preliminary contests, in which all the members of the class participated. The contest promises to be very close as all are splendid declaimers. In addition to the four declamations, the programme for the evening will contain a number of charming musical numbers by well known and popular musicians of the college and the city. Mr. John Newell, the professor of elocution, has charge of the contest.

JUSTICE RUBY'S COURT.

In Justice Ruby's court yesterday the case of Nellie McWhinney vs. George Hackley was tried and the jury found for the plaintiff. Miss McWhinney set up in her complaint that she was the owner of a piano which the defendant had seized in enforcing an execution against the mother of plaintiff. She sued for possession of the instrument and got it.

An action entitled Colorado Springs Transfer company vs. J. S. Lacraft was commenced yesterday in the court of Justice Ruby. It is a money demand for $14.75.

Buttonhole Interviews

Mr. R. L. Bridaham, of the drug store of Bridaham, Quereau & Co., of Denver, was in the city yesterday making arrangements for the entertainment of himself and party during the meeting of the State Pharmaceutical association next week. Ten years ago Mr. Bridaham was an errand boy in Robinson's drug store in this city. Today he is at the head of one of the largest wholesale drug houses in the state. This has all been accomplished in six years by intelligence, hard work and straight dealing and without financial assistance in any way. Many young men in this city have grown rich in mining and by otherwise suddenly acquiring property, but young Bridaham's success in a commercial way is probably the most striking of any boy ever raised here.

An action at law to recover $4.50 was begun in Justice Ruby's court yesterday. The Gazette man asked the justice if he had recently had any smaller bone of contention in his court.

"Oh, yes," said the justice. "Last week we had a big time here over a bill for $2.00. The man who owed the $2.00 was evidently going to leave the city without paying it. He had his household goods all packed and was going to remove them to Kansas. We issued an execution and prevented the removal of the goods from the city. The defendant wriggled around pretty hard for a day or two. He hated to pay that bill worse than any other man I have seen for a long time. He had to come to it, however, and in addition to the bill of $2.00 he had about $10 court costs to pay."

"We have secured the finest exhibit that will be at the International Mining congress at Milwaukee on June 19, and hope to see the mining exchanges take hold of the matter and appoint delegates at once," said Col. B. F. Montgomery, president of the International congress. "Interest in Colorado Springs has not come up to the required standard and it must take on an impetus before many days have passed or the result may be serious. It will cost $1,000 to take the large exhibit to the congress and return it safely to its place, and that money must be raised somewhere.

"There will be delegates from five foreign countries at the Milwaukee meeting. They have written that they will attend, and every one of the United States will be represented. With the [illegible] and delegates from both of the local exchanges we are sure we can get next year's meeting for this city, which will doubtless bring 5,000 delegates. George Buckman has prepared a valuable paper on the output of Cripple Creek, the business of the district and Colorado Springs which is calculated to bring new interest.

"I hope the exchanges will not lose any time, for this is a matter of vast importance to the whole of Colorado as well as the Cripple Creek district and Colorado Springs."

PERSONAL MENTION.

H. L. Hinckley of Denver is at the Alta Vista.

J. Ed. Blackall of Denver is at the Alta Vista.

A. L. Wharton of Cripple Creek is at the Elk.

J. M. Lorimer of Cripple Creek is registered at the Alamo.

J. C. McCormick of Victor is registered at the Alta Vista.

Mrs. Charles Towle of Denver is a late arrival at the Alamo.

Mrs. F. W. Howbert and child, of [illegible] are at the [illegible].

W. H. Reno, wife and mother, of Denver, are guests at the Spaulding.

Representative W. C. Sloane and H. C. Rowley of Creede are at the Alamo.

Mrs. Callie Jewett from Kansas City is spending the summer with her cousin, Mrs. Barton.

N. D. Allen and wife, of Kansas City, have taken rooms at the Alta Vista for an extended stay.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Beecher of 326 West Cache la Poudre street, are entertaining Mrs. Beecher's father, Hon. Calvin E. Hood, of Kansas.

The Count and Countess de la Chesnaye arrived in the city yesterday and will be the guests of the sister of the countess, Mrs. Claude Fache, at 3 Pelham place.

Governor Thomas and Secretary C. L. Stonaker of the state board of charities and correction were in the city last night to attend the commencement exercises at the Institute.

J. E. Birkenmier, the [illegible] night clerk at the St. James hotel in Denver, was at the Alamo yesterday. Mr. Birkenmier formerly lived in Trinidad and has one of the best state acquaintances in Colorado.

Miss Gladys Fox, who has been spending the year at Wolfe Hall, Denver, and is now en route to San Francisco, spent the day here yesterday visiting at the home of Dr. A. F. McKay.

Miss Mabel Hancock, who made a great many friends when visiting in Colorado Springs a year ago and who has spent the winter in school at Canon City, arrived yesterday for a visit of several days at the home of Dr. W. C. Allen.

GREENWOOD--CASSELL

Rev. W. H. W. Boyle of the First Presbyterian church, united in marriage yesterday afternoon, Miss L. E. Cassell of Columbus, O., and Mr. F. E. Greenwood of this city. Only relatives were present.

Mr. Greenwood left his Columbus (Ohio) home two months ago and came to Colorado Springs, where he has since been employed as a bookkeeper by [illegible] mining brokers.

The young couple will remain at the Alamo hotel for a few days, after which they will enter a home of their own.

BRIEF CITY ITEMS.

Invitations are out for the season's hops at the Alta Vista hotel—functions that will be exclusive and tasty.

There will be an examination for admission to the bar upon the 25th and 26th days of June, 1900, at the Capitol building, Denver, Colo. Applicants may now register with the secretary, Henry Charles Charpiot, 432 Equitable building, Denver, Colo., either in person or by letter.

All members of Pike's Peak lodge No. 38, I. O. O. F., and visiting members are requested to meet at the lodge rooms at 9 o'clock this morning for the purpose of attending the funeral of our late brother, G. M. Ward, which will take place from the latter's residence, 1107 South Nevada avenue, at 10 o'clock. By order of the Noble Grand.

TONIGHT

"AS YOU LIKE IT" AT THE TEMPLE THEATER.

Rehearsals Indicate a Strong Presentation of the Play and the Sale of Tickets Indicates Big Crowd

The production of "As You Like It" at the Temple theater this evening by the graduating class of the high school, will in all probability be the most successful amateur performance both financially and artistically that has ever been given in Colorado Springs.

The rehearsals that have been held during the last three or four days have borne the fruit of the efforts that have been put forth by the youthful actors and actresses for months past. The lines are splendidly in hand and the costuming of the play is to be the prettiest that has been secured yet in Colorado Springs from Madame Auerbach, the well known costumer of Denver.

A Charming Rosalind.

Tom Richards as Orlando and Clara Stephens as Rosalind will have the favor of the house from their first appearance and the character of their work will be of a grade that will be surprising to all who anticipate evidences of amateurism in the rendition of the play. Harold Nash is going to play Touchstone and critics who have witnessed the dress rehearsals unite in pronouncing him a distinct success. Other parts in the caste are equally well taken and no character, because of lesser importance, has been allowed to go with less care in the training which has been bestowed upon the company as a whole.

The sale of seats was very rapid yesterday. There is every assurance of a crowded house and the fund which will result from the production promises to exceed that raised by last year's class in "The Merchant of Venice."

MUSIC LOVERS GO TO CASINO TODAY

The Casino entertained a big dancing party last evening. The cars were filled with young people and they danced until 11 o'clock. The attendance is becoming regular at the Casino among the music lovers as well as the dancers. This afternoon and evening there will be concerts and as very fine programmes will be given it is anticipated that the musical people of the city will give their patronage.

The programmes for the day are as follows:

BUSINESS MEN SIGN PETITION

As stated in yesterday's Gazette the council at its meeting Monday night heard several petitions read in behalf of Mr. F. D. Baty, the signers petitioning for his reinstatement as the chief of the fire department of Colorado Springs.

There were four petitions. One was a letter from Judge Pendery, a neighbor of Mr. Baty, who wrote the council unsolicited, stating that he had known Mr. Baty intimately as a public and as a private citizen and asking that he be reinstated.

The members of the Sinton Hose company, one of the volunteer companies, which have done such good service when called upon and who for years afforded all the fire protection that the city had, petitioned Alderman Sinton to use his vote and his influence in Mr. Baty's behalf.

From Insurance Men.

The third was from local insurance underwriters and stated that they believed the city's interests safer with Mr. Baty at the head of the fire department than with anyone else. It bears the signatures of the following:

Estimate of Output from Elkton Consolidated--Big Strike Reported on An Alamo Company Property.

Special to the Gazette:

Cripple Creek, June 5.—The properties of the Raven G. M. Co., consisting of 21 acres, and the holdings of the Tornado G. M. Co., containing 15 acres, were formally turned over to President Geo. Bernard of the Consolidated Elkton company this morning. This company now holds title to 69 acres of patented property on Raven hill and the Raven and Tornado corporations have practically ceased to exist.

The first shipment from the consolidated properties was also sent out today, consisting of two carloads about 60 tons of 3-ounce ore from the Raven.

It is roughly estimated that the gross value of the output of the combined workings for the present month will aggregate $100,000. Of this amount the Elkton alone will produce not less than $70,000. As already stated in the Gazette, Sol Camp will remain as manager and Superintendent Campbell will remain with the Raven properties for the present.

All three shafts will be worked steadily until the new machinery is installed. This will be in about three months. Then the Gregory and Elkton shafts only will be operated. A station is now being cut at the eighth level of the Elkton and from here a drift will be extended into the Thompson ground south of the Elkton, which has never been operated since it was purchased by the Elkton company. Mr. Bernard stated tonight that when the eighth level is thoroughly opened there will be more in the mine than can be extracted in the next five years.

Big Surface Strike.

A big surface strike has been made on the Hawkins sub-lease on the White Elephant of the Alamo company. Only ten feet from surface a vein 14 inches wide has been uncovered. All of it is good pay with two inches of it fabulously rich in free gold. The strike is not more than 15 or 20 feet distant from Lexington ground. A number of people visited the ground today and brought away rich specimens.

Aspen parties who have become interested in the French lease on the Virginia May property on the west slope of Gold hill are erecting machinery.

Connections to surface on the Gold Sovereign tunnel have been completed. Lessee Jackson is now installing the machinery. The depth of these workings is now 300 feet.

The Strong mine will close down so far as underground operations are concerned, on the 10th inst. Work will then be commenced on the installation of the new plant of machinery.

Sol Camp of the Elkton has sold his third interest in the lease on the northeast end of the Mountain Beauty to C. F. Holland of this city. The consideration is not made public but it is understood to be a substantial one.

A Blanche Shipment.

The lessees on the Uncle Sam of the Blanche company closed a 100-ton shipment of $50 ore this morning. The ore is coming from a drift in the 200-foot level. The drift has been extended for a distance of 30 feet. The vein measures 15 feet across, but only from 4 to 6 feet of it is pay. A crosscut is also being driven for a vein from the 300-foot point.

Lessees Barth and others, of the Twin Sisters on Raven hill, are getting out another shipment which will be ready by the end of the week. The last lot marketed was settled for at a little better than 2 ounces to the ton. This consignment, however, is expected to return higher values, as the sorters are better acquainted with the ore and the general run of assays has been higher.

An accident to the station pump of the Vindicator has caused trouble at that mine and sinking has also been temporarily stopped at the Lillie adjoining. The damages will be repaired by the morning. A new pump is expected to arrive tomorrow morning for the Lillie and as soon as it is installed sinking will be resumed.

Important Discoveries Foreshadowed--The Opening Up of a New District in Routt County.

Special to the Gazette.

Steamboat Springs, Colo., June 5.—Farwell mountain, Routt county's new copper camp, is at the present time engaging a great deal of attention, and prospectors are flocking in there in considerable numbers. From indications on the surface, for no shaft has yet been put down more than twenty feet, there is every reason to believe that a permanent and rich copper camp has been discovered. The new district is located a few miles east of Hahn's peak, in a region famous for years for [illegible] found in the vicinity. Last fall the McCormick brothers located some claims and have been working [illegible]. At a depth of four feet from the surface they opened into a fine body of copper. This spring as soon as the snow was off, others went in there and located claims, and [illegible] a rush set in.

The deepest of the McCormick claims is down twenty feet. It shows native copper, copper glance and red oxide. Assays run from 12 to 40 per cent copper, $2 in gold and a few ounces in silver. There is a big body of ore in the bottom of the shaft. They have five other claims in the vicinity and all show ore fully as rich as the one mentioned. Mill runs have been sent out and it is believed that shipping will begin immediately, notwithstanding the distance from a railroad as with a little sorting $100 ore can be obtained, it requiring ore of this value to stand shipping from this place with a wagon haul of 100 miles.

The formation of the new district is granite, schist, gneiss and [illegible]. The veins are true fissure and are from one to four feet in width. There is a good road open to the camp.

[illegible] P. Buckles, a well known mining expert has opened two veins of rich copper ore in the vicinity and will at once begin the work of development. He considers everything indicating that the veins are permanent and will carry their values with depth. If they only carry their surface values, it is certain that a great copper camp has been established.

A townsite has been located and named Farwell City. There is plenty of water and timber in the vicinity.

A stock company is now being formed in Denver to work the McCormick properties and the work of thorough development will soon be in progress.

There are about twenty-five people in camp now and more are arriving every day.

About twenty claims have been located and opened so far and each of them show copper of the same phenomenal richness as the McCormick properties already mentioned. The district is about fifteen miles south of Battle Lake, the rich Wyoming camp, and [illegible] is supposed to be on the same copper belt which extends from Battle south 100 miles to Grand river.

Rich copper float was found in this district over twenty-five years ago, when the big Hahn's peak ditch was being built, but at that time copper was of so little value as not to be worth digging on.

MINING NOTES AROUND TOWN

The Portland directors met yesterday afternoon and declared the regular monthly dividend of two cents per share on the total capitalization of 3,000,000. The dividend amounts to $60,000 and when it is paid on the 15th inst. the Portland company will have distributed $2,917,080, or within less than $60,000 of the total capitalization of the company, which will be entirely paid up on the 15th of next July.

C. K. & N. LESSEE REPORTS HIS PROGRESS

The C. K. & N. company of this city has received the report of Horace Granfield, leasing on the company's property on [illegible] hill. The lessee reports that development work is being carried on very vigorously and that the 4x8 shaft which he is sinking has now reached the depth of seventy feet, timbered to within a few feet of the bottom. Owing to the character of the ground the sinking has been unproductive so far as it is only at the present depth that the shaft has reached a solid formation. Different assays have been obtained, but none of them showed pay values, the highest being $5 to the ton, and the lessee hardly expects to encounter pay ore until he has put the shaft to the 200 or 300 foot point. In order to facilitate the sinking a steam plant will shortly be installed, and the shaft continued to the 300 foot point before any drifting is done. The lessee expects to get the vein from which the Cripple Creek Columbia lessees are mining ore at present.

EXCHANGE AND TRUST CO. MAY UNITE INTERESTS.

A proposition has been made to the governing committee of the Colorado Springs Mining Stock association by the promoters of the new Colorado Springs Trust company, that the exchange subscribe to a large block of the capital stock of the trust company. The advantage of the exchange being a large stockholder in a trust company to which it would be able to give a great deal of business is manifest. It would mean that instead of paying out money to [illegible] other trust companies, a great deal of the funds which it has to expend in this way it would receive back again as its share of the profits of the trust company. The proposition will be acted upon at the next meeting of the governing committee and the matter will probably stand next in importance to the time trading in the subjects which have recently come before the committee. The exchange has a cash surplus of $65,000 on hand and it is argued by the promoters of this proposition that it could not be more advantageously invested. It would also mean a consolidation of interests that could not but be most beneficial to both institutions.

RENEWED ACTIVITY ON VIRGINIA M. PROPERTY.

The stock of the Virginia M. company has been very strong on the exchange during the past day or two and yesterday passed the 10 cent mark. The cause for this is the renewal of active mining on the Lincoln claim under lease to E. M. De La Vergne. Work has been progressing for some time in putting down the three-compartment shaft, which has now reached the depth of 150 feet, but owing to the fact that there was not adequate machinery on the property the work has been slow. Now, however, Mr. De La Vergne has resolved to push matters and has ordered a plant of machinery which will be installed just as soon as it arrives on the ground, as a new shaft house has been already erected. It is the [illegible] to sink to the 400-foot point before any drifting or crosscutting is done.

WILL PRODUCE A CARLOAD A DAY.

The recent find in the [illegible] of the Pinnacle company has been very productive. A consignment has just been closed, [illegible] which is expected to return on an average of $35 to the ton, and it is expected that a production of a car a day will be maintained. The vein is wide and gives every appearance of being a permanent one. It is thought to be the extension of the one from which Wing and Glenn mined so much ore in the Lansing of the Pinnacle company.

GOLD KING CLAIM MAKING GOOD PROGRESS.

The ore opened up in the Gold King of the Progress company is holding out in fine shape. The lease has begun hoisting ore and now has 20 tons of a four-ounce grade on the surface, with enough broken below to keep the hoist running for a week.

KIMBERLY ORE AVERAGES SEVENTY DOLLARS A TON.

Isaacson and associates, leasing on the Longcoming of the Kimberly company, are putting out about three carloads of ore a week. Returns have just been received on the last consignment of two cars, the ore having brought on an average $70 in gold to the ton. A shipment of two cars is out at present, which is expected to return about the same values. After doing a great deal of work with only scant results, the lessees are now working in a consistent shoot which is showing up better as work progresses. The vein is eight feet wide, and while the values do not average as high as $70 across the entire width, good pay values are obtained from the entire eight feet.

TROUBLE BETWEEN THE VICTOR AND TRIUMPH.

Judge Stimson of the district court of Cripple Creek has ordered that all ore which is being mined from the Triumph fraction on Battle mountain be marketed and the net proceeds deposited with the court until it can be decided whether the Victor Consolidated company has any right to the ore or not. The Victor company sued for an injunction, but this was denied. The case will be heard on its merits some time around the last of the month.

WORCESTER COMPANY'S ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Worcester Gold Mining company was held at the company's offices in Colorado City on Monday night. A total of 793,930 shares were represented out of a capitalization of 1,500,000 shares. The following were elected directors for the ensuing year: A. A. Doyle, J. D. O'Haire, D. W. Walsh, T. A. Hart and S. Levy. The directors have not yet elected officers. The reports read at the meeting showed the company to be in good shape.

INTEREST GROWS IN QUERIDA

Special to the Gazette:

Florence, June 5.—C. W. Neff and Jesse Ash of this city returned yesterday from their trip to Querida, the camp where the famous Bassick mine is located, about 30 miles southwest of Florence. They have secured a three years' lease on the Mountain Maid, which is not far from the Bassick. This is a copper and lead proposition and they are making preparations for active development.

A large number of Florentines are now in that region working on their property interests and most of them have excellent mineral showing. J. G. Johnston and Judge G. D. Johnson are in that vicinity at present. Some time ago they took an option on a mine and it is generally understood that their intentions are to close the deal.

This camp is an old established one, but owing to the decline in silver the mines were shut down, but some of them have recently reopened and others will be shortly.

In the way of new strikes some Boston people are the foremost. The discovery was made on the Avery property and runs 50 ounces in gold and a high per cent in silver. The company is installing considerable hoisting machinery. Another strike was made a short time ago on the Dutch flats by Carl Wulsten. But the vein pinched out and for the last two months he has been sinking deeper and is at present again entering the same body of ore. Before the lead pinched out the ore was running $1,500 to the ton.

EASTERN MARKETS

New York Money Market.

New York, June 5.—Money on call steady at 1½@2. Last loan 1½. Prime mercantile paper [illegible].

Sterling exchange firm with actual business in bankers' bills at 4.87½ for demand and at $4.84½ for 60 days. Posted [illegible].

New York Stocks.

New York, June 5.—The stock market showed symptoms of strength at various times today, but the pressure to sell at the advance proved too much for the limited demand to absorb and the latter part of the day was given over to a desultory, downward movement which carried prices below last night's level except for a few stocks.

The strength of a few shares was in fact the principal sustaining influence of the market at all times. The best support of this character came from Atchison pref., which began to move upward early in the day in anticipation of the dividend announcement. The declaration of a 2½ per cent dividend had been accurately forecasted and the advance in the stock came to a stand-still when the dividend was announced.

The other incident of the day to attract most attention was the Sugar dividend which was maintained at the same rate of 1½ per cent as the last.

The selling to take speculative profits met such a light demand that the price fell away weakly and had a decidedly depressing effect upon the whole market.

Aside from the sympathetic influence of these movements the market was dull and apathetic throughout.

The bond market was dull and sluggish. Total sales par value $1,355,000.

United States bonds were unchanged.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, June 5.—Corn was strong [illegible]. There was a demand for it reported by the cash people and the speculative trade also showed an increase. The situation to all appearances remained unchanged as to crop prospects, which were still declared to be of a rosy hue. Offerings from Nebraska were larger and some of the elevators sold out, but the demand from outsiders and the influence of the local bulls together with covering by shorts were sufficient to advance the market despite the larger offerings from first hands. July closed [illegible] over yesterday at 38⅛, the top price of the day.

The wheat market was a small one and the pit where this commodity is dealt in a dull place. The northwest was a seller, thus giving support in a practical way to reports of good rains in that section of the country. There were other reports, however, which asserted that the Dakotas and neighboring territory could stand much more moisture than has been received this season. The Missouri condition was reported off six points, which was a minor help, but the corn strength furnished the main support. Shorts bought because of the firmness in the small demand from outsiders evidently under the belief that the northwest situation is serious. July closed firm ⅛ higher at 67.

Oats were slow but firm in sympathy with corn.

Provisions were firm but quiet.

The London Market.

New York, June 5.—Commercial Advertiser's London financial cablegram: The news of the fall of Pretoria fell flat in the markets here today, being counteracted by the ominous reports from China which depressed funds. Dealings were very quiet, and there was a small attendance of the holidays, many members leaving early. Americans were almost forgotten, the transactions in them dwindling on small sales. Baltimore & Ohio preferred was exceptionally strong, London buying them slightly. The Atchison dividend announcement had no effect. Copper shares were weak with the decline in metal.

Money was unchanged, but the tendency was downward. The bank sold £75,000 in French gold coin and £5,000 arrived from Portugal.

The Metal Market.

New York, June 5.—There was considerable irregularity developed in the metal market today. Tin, in sympathy with an advance in London, jumped some 20 to 50 points higher, the market, however, ruling very quiet and at the close was quiet on the basis of $30.20@30.50. Lead, on the other hand, ruled weak and unsettled at $3.55@3.65 and spelter was also weak, owing to an increase in receipts and the scarcity of buyers, closing weak at $4.40@4.45. Lake copper ruled very dull at unchanged prices, $16.75. Pig iron warrants weak, no quotation. The broker's price for lead was $3.70 and for copper $16.50@16.75.

Hogs—Receipts, 23,000. Mixed and butchers, $4.90@5.20; good choice heavy, $4.90@5.20; light, $4.95@5.17½; bulk of sales, $5.12½@5.15.

Sheep—Receipts, 8,000. Good to choice mixed, $4.40@5.00; western sheep, $4.75@5.40; yearlings, $5.50@6.00; native $5.75@7.15.

The Coffee Market.

It is hard to say new things about Doan's Kidney Pills. They cure the lame and aching back, the sufferer from kidneys disorders and the troubles of those whose urinary organism is wrong in its action. That they do this is so easy to prove that not a vestige of doubt remains. Public endorsement of local citizens is easily proven. Read this case.
Mr. Otto Rupp, of 416 East Huerfano street, says: "When I contracted a cold it either weakened or over-excited my kidneys, and as a result I was annoyed both day and night by too frequent action of the kidney secretions. Reading about Doan's Kidney Pills curing similar cases, I procured a box at Smith-Wilson Drug Co.'s store, 31 North Tejon street, and took it. Much to my surprise and more to my gratification, I was not only immediately helped, but the weakness or over-excitement of my kidneys passed away."

A TIME FOR BUYING

Nearly all of the really meritorious stocks are selling below their intrinsic worth and almost the entire market is a "buy." We do not anticipate any serious decline during the summer, and believe that the investor who will purchase now and hold on to his stock will come out with splendid profits. There are a number of stocks that offer specially good investments, and upon request we will gladly give our well-considered opinion as to what stocks offer the most attractive investments at the present time.

DIVIDEND PAYERS

There are several dividend-payers which we believe offer not only steady interest on the money invested, but also that offer the opportunity for splendid profits. Write us and we will give you the details concerning the dividend-payers that are most attractive.

PROSPECTIVE DIVIDEND PAYERS

There are several stocks which will, we believe, enter the dividend paying ranks before a great while. These stocks are now selling comparatively low, and we advise the immediate purchase of them both for an investment and for quick profits. We will give particulars upon request.

THE COLORADO SPRINGS MINING STOCK EXCHANGE

Colorado Springs, June 5.—The market today on the Colorado Springs Mining Stock exchange was much lighter than it was yesterday, with prices somewhat uncertain. The trading fell off in all the departments, excepting among the prospects stocks which were slightly more active than they have been, but with some instances of declines. The reason for the inactivity of the market at present is that those who are contemplating investing in Cripple Creek stocks do not realize that there couldn't possibly be a better time to buy than during the dull days of warm weather.

The trading presented no especial features, outside of the stocks which have been attracting attention for several days. The trading in Independence T. and M. is very lively and the stock manifested a good deal of strength on the second call as well as on the first, fluctuating in the fractions above 61 and refusing to go any lower. The stock is too good a speculation at present prices for the speculators to refuse to take all that is offered around 60 cents, as it is very likely that if litigation were finally disposed of in favor of the Independence company in the proceedings which have just been instituted at Washington, the stock would go to $1. However, there is no telling where it would go if the suit were not settled in its favor. Another feature of the trading was the further decline in Ingham, which went to 20½ under heavy trading. National fell off to 10¼, and New Haven declined another fraction to 8⅝. Lexington, however, strengthened to 18, and Little Nell showed great strength in advancing to 9 cents from 8½. The work being done on that prospect is very comprehensive, and the chances for developing a mine are very favorable. The stock has advanced steadily ever since it was listed on 'change a few months ago. Fauntleroy was traded in for the first time in some weeks, and sold at 7½, and Grace strengthened to 5¼. Isabella declined further to $1.24⅞.

The sales for the day came to 600,700 shares exchanged, and the cash value of the day's trading was $141,960.25.

Within the Past Two Years

So many cases of consumption taking my treatment have returned to their homes, where they have been cured, or are getting well, that others are asking what my treatment is.

What It Is

It is a cure for all cases of Consumption in the first stage.

It is a cure for a larger per cent. of advanced cases than any other treatment yet discovered.

It is a radical cure. No one cured by it within the past 12 years has re-taken the disease.

It is a sensible treatment. Beginning its work in the healthy portions of the lung it gradually encroaches upon the diseased areas until all portions are made healthy.

It is a cure for tuburcular throats when applied early.

It is taken in your own home and in any climate.

Consultation and examination free.

Office, Suite 45 Postoffice Building.

COLORADO SPRINGS, COLO.

What It Is Not

It is not a cure for all cases of Consumption.

It is not a cure for cases in the advanced stages, except they be of a catarrhal type.

It is not unpleasant to take, the most feeble ones using it with ease.

It is not a cure for all cases of tuburcular throats.

It is not in any way injurious. The most serious and delicate cases are improved, and if not cured are made comfortable and their lives prolonged.

It is not an expensive treatment, but comes within the reach of all.

Call on or address.

The Sparkle of Life

Is generated by Nervous Energy

You can't have good health and weak nerves at the same time. Your general health is good or bad, according to the condition of your nerves. No theory in this; it is simply founded upon the old law of cause and effect.

Nerve force gives buoyancy, vim and power to both body and brain.

Be convinced of the above facts by trying a box of Palmo Tablets. The greatest nerve remedy of the age. They cure debility.
